Provocative Acts Listed Against Navy, Congress

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba sent off a list of complaints Tuesday against the United States to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant. It accused Washington of planning an attack on Cuba that would engulf the world in thermonuclear war.

But the 4,000-word letter from Foreign Minister Raul Roa carried a veiled offer to talk out differences in meetings with U.S. officials.

"There is no better way in a crisis such as this than peaceful negotiations and discussions between governments," Roa told Thant.

The letter, which Roa asked to be distributed to all U.N. delegations, spelled out whatt he Cubans called provocative acts and statements from the U.S. government, congressmen and Cuban exiles. It said the situation between the United States and Cuba has been deteriorating since the October Soviet missile crisis.

"Humanity sees itself enveloped again in an atmosphere of threats and tensions that could lead to a thermonuclear war," Roa said.

Further on in the letter, he charged that "steps are being taken presently by the United States to prepare aggression against Cuba."

He said the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay is "a den of spies, saboteurs and counterrevolutionaries."

Coinciding with the announcement of Roa's letter, the Armed Forces Ministry charged that the United States staged six incidents on land and sea around Cuba recently.

In one incident, the ministry said, a U.S. Navy destroyer "had the insolence of advancing to meet a Soviet merchant vessel" as it approached Havana harbor.

A Havana radio broadcast heard in Key West, Fla., said that a Soviet merchant vessel saved two Cuban fishing boats from seizure by two U.S. destroyers. It said the Soviet ship protected the fishing boats by steaming in the path of the destroyers. The broadcast also claimed that three U.S. destroyers harassed another fishing boat elsewhere for more than three hours.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman denied the broadcast report and said: "We have no knowledge of any such incidents. No Navy destroyer has attempted to capture any Cuban fishing boats, or threatened to do so."

Mushy Moscardino Is Shot To Death

MIAMI (UPI) — Underworld figure Joseph (Mushy) Moscardino was found shot to death Tuesday and police quickly arrested another gangland figure who was to have gone on trial with Moscardino later this month.

The suspect, John Manarite, was taken into custody by a county patrolman who chanced upon the shooting minutes after it happened.

Investigators were not sure of the motive for the slaying.

But there was some speculation Moscardino, who took the Fifth Amendment before a federal grand jury in January, may have been "ready to talk" about racketeering in this area.

Reorganization Of Internal Revenue To Save $5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service will streamline itself starting late this year, hoping to save the taxpayers $5 million a year, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon announced Tuesday.

Some district offices will be merged or their work load cut and two regional offices will be eliminated. This is designed to reduce the work force, reportedly by about 200 jobs, and cut down on the overhead of office and equipment expenses.

A spokesman for the service described the reorganization as a consolidation of overhead management and supervision while leaving intact all services to the taxpayers. He said large field offices will be kept in all cities which will lose regional or district offices.

The first step will be to trim the operations in 12 of the present 62 district offices.

The 12, which will depend more in the future on larger IRS installations nearby for expert and managerial help, are those located at Aberdeen, S.D.; Fargo, N.D.; Helena, Mont.; Boise, Idaho; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Anchorage, Alaska; Reno, Nev.; Wilmington, Del.; Burlington, Vt.; Augusta, Maine; Portsmouth, N. H.; and Providence, R.I.

Starting Jan. 1, four other offices will be merged with district offices in the same state.

Camden, N.J., will go to the Newark office; Kansas City to St. Louis, Mo.; and Scranton, Pa., will be divided between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

This overhaul, Dillon said, will enable IRS to cut its regional offices from seven to nine. The Boston office will take over the New York region and Chicago will be given the Omaha region.

That will mean that the service will have seven instead of nine automatic data processing service centers. Installations once planned for the Detroit and New York areas will not be established.

The plan was recommended by the internal revenue commissioner, Mortimer M. Caplin.

Specific plans for personnel shifts within district or regional offices have not been completed, an IRS spokesman said.

The spokesman estimated that within each office affected by the turnover between eight and 30 positions would be affected.

IRS said it hopes to adjust the cutbacks by attrition—not hiring replacements for those who leave voluntarily or who retire—rather than by firing employes.

The spokesman said some present employes may decide to resign rather than accept transfer and a few may have to accept a pay cut.

IRS last week issued orders against hiring new personnel or giving promotions in the job categories involved until the end of this year, to make room for the shuffle of personnel.

Merger of Omaha region into the Chicago office will mean that Wyoming, Colorado and Kansas will be shifted into the Dallas region. The Chicago region will take over Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota and Missouri.

School Boy Dies After Falling Under Trolley

His face was contorted in pain but he did not cry. He apologized to a rescue team for the inconvenience he caused them. And he hoped his mother wouldn't worry about him.

Five hours later, Ferdinand Struass III, died.

While en route to school Monday he slipped on ice in trying to catch a trolley. He fell beneath the car and was dragged 32 feet.

Police and firemen jacked up the car to extricate him. During the 15 minutes this took, police talked to Ferdinand.

"I don't want my mother upset," he murmered.

Ferdinand was asked where he was hurt. "All over — especially my legs and arms," was the reply.

The boy was taken to Children's Medical Center in Boston although he said he wanted to go to Massachusetts General Hospital. His father, Ferdinand Strauss II, is assistant director of Massachusetts General.

During the ambulance ride, he worried about what happened to his school books. And he was concerned that his mother might "become upset" by his accident.

The boy whose dying words were "I'm sorry for this trouble" will be buried Wednesday.

French and American officials praised the cultural exchange in a farewell ceremony. Then the Leonardo da Vinci masterpiece was swathed in protective wrappings and stored in a vault until time for the return Thursday to the Louvre in Paris.

Billy Graham Leaves Hospital

HONOLULU (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham left St. Francis Hospital Tuesday under strict orders to rest and continue his convalescence in Hawaii.

The evangelist underwent five days of tests at the hospital after doctors ordered him to withdraw from his planned Far East crusade, which opens in Manila this weekend. Dr. Richard Chang, Graham's physician, identified the preacher's ailment as enterocolitis, an inflammation of the large and small intestines.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist would spend the next several weeks in seclusion on one of the Hawaiian Islands.

Rain Slows Vote As Baltimoreans Choose Candidates

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democrat Philip H. Goodman and Republican Theodore R. McKeldin sailed to easy victories Tuesday night in their bids for party nominations for mayor of Baltimore.

Goodman's candidate for the presidency of the City Council, Thomas D'Alesandro III, also was an easy winner. But his candidate for city comptroller, Henry H. Hergenroeder, was in a tight race with Hyman Pressman.

Goodman, who moved up from president of the City Council to mayor when J. Harold Grady resigned in December to take a judicial appointment, ran in a field of nine. His chief contenders were C. Meredith Boyce and Dr. R. Walter Graham Jr., now comptroller.

With 378 of 575 polling places reported, Goodman had 47,620, Boyce 23,837 and Graham 12,871.

With 356 of 575 polling places reported, McKeldin had 9,586, Culotta 2,727.

With 378 of 575 polling places reported, D'Alesandro lead 40,971, Angelos 17,666 and Liss 16,260.

3,000 Students Battle French Riot Police

PARIS (UPI) — Three thousand students battled with police Tuesday night in a demonstration supporting France's 200,000 striking coal miners and 500,000 state workers who called brief sympathy strikes during the day.

At least one student suffered head cuts when struck by a police nightstick during the half hour skirmish outside the Sorbonne University. The students tried to march from the university to the labor ministry but scores of riot police rushed to the scene broke up the march.

The students joined the 500,000 state-employed workers in protesting the government's threats of fine or imprisonment to try to crush the four-day-old miners' strike for higher wages despite President Charles de Gaulle's "work or else" orders.

De Gaulle met with four key ministers Tuesday to discuss what to do about the miners' defiance of the government threats and the 15-minute sympathy strikes throughout the nation.

In all but two of France's coal mines the only miners on duty were strike pickets or skeleton staffs responsible for shaft safety.

Spokesmen for the miners told reporters the miners will not go along with any government effort to compromise on their demand for an 11 per cent raise to meet increased living costs. The government offered 5.77 per cent over a 12-month period. The miners make from $120 to $200 a month.

De Gaulle has ordered his government to hold the line on wages. He fears a return to the wage-increasing price inflation which ruined the Fourth Republic.

Competition Increases For GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Competition for the 1964 Republican National Convention stepped up Tuesday with Miami Beach offering the largest cash bid so far—$600,000.

The bid by a delegation headed by Democratic Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida was the largest cash offer veteran reporters could remember ever being made to a site committee of either party.

In addition to the cash, Bryant said the Florida city would provide free rental of the convention hall, unlimited parking space, free air conditioning, and free janitor service.

He said the offer was backed by the entire state of Florida.

The largest previous offer was a combined cash and services bid of $650,000 from Philadelphia. Only slightly more than half the Philadelphia offer was in cash.

Bryant, accompanied by Florida's two Republican congressmen, Reps. Edward J. Gurney and William Cramer, and several Miami Beach officials, appeared before the committee after a delegation from San Francisco.

Miami Beach was the last of six cities bidding for the 1964 convention to appear before the committee's two-day closed session, which ended Tuesday.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco said his city offered $350,000 cash, plus revenues from such sources as convention programs and tickets, and was willing to negotiate further.

In addition to Miami Beach, San Francisco and Philadelphia, the cities bidding for the GOP convention are Detroit and Chicago. Dallas was in the early running but withdrew. The 1960 Republican convention was in Chicago.

During its final session, the site committee heard from representatives of the periodicals, press, radio and television, and press photographers in a discussion of their needs for the convention.

Peace Talks In News Strike Dragging Along

"I'm trying to get them to move faster," Mayor Robert F. Wagner told newsmen as he shepherded publishers and striking union printers through another day of negotiations.

Wagner volunteered 10 days ago to undertake a role outlined by President Kennedy as impartial umpire in the strike and to lay down his own nonbinding settlement terms. He has held back, however, with the resumption of negotiations.

"I set no specific time for such action," he said Tuesday. "I feel that if negotiations of this kind are no longer fruitful, then I will be prepared to take my next step."

Amory H. Bradford, vice president of the struck Times and chief negotiator for the Publishers Association of New York, said there had been some slight narrowing of differences in the deadlock. However, Bertram A. Powers reported "no progress, really."

Powers is president of Local 6, AFL-CIO International Typographical Union.

Bradford told newsmen that there had been some narrowing of differences on automation, the use of outside teletypesetter tape to set type.

Powers said the publishers had wanted to introduce a degree of automation prohibited by the old ITU contract without, in his view, offering enough job protection to the printers. The strike leader said that this issue was put aside until later, adding, "perhaps we'll have to revert to the old contract."

Kennedy's News Conference On TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's news conference at 11 a.m. EST Wednesday will be carried live on all television and radio networks, the White House said Tuesday.

7 Drowned As Rain, Thaw Hit In East

Tornado Strikes In Alabama; Red Cross Sends Aid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flood waters drowned seven persons and drove hundreds of families from their homes Tuesday as rain or snow fell on wide areas of the eastern half of the country.

A tornado sliced into Bessemer, Ala., near Birmingham. There were reports of widespread damage but no injuries.

A waning storm that caught its second wind blanketed Omaha, Neb., with a 10-inch snowfall which caused vast morning rush-hour traffic jams.

Western and central Iowa were blanketed under as much as 10 inches of new snow. Many schools were closed, and driving was hazardous.

Freeze In Midwest

Snow and freezing rain slicked roads in eastern Kansas and Nebraska and from northern Missouri, Iowa and southern Minnesota eastward into southern Michigan.

Rains that doused many sections of the Midwest and East earlier this week sent floodwaters pouring over sections of Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The swirling Ohio River backwaters caused at least five drownings—three in West Virginia and two in Ohio. A man and his teenage daughter were missing and feared drowned in the Whitewater River in Indiana.

Train Derailed

Two youths at Xenia, Ohio, spent the night clinging to a tree inches above the roaring flood waters of the Little Miami River. Their canoe capsized when they were moving calves out of the way of the rising waters. An Air Force helicopter plucked them from their roost after nine hours.

Nehru Challenges Border Agreement

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said Tuesday India does not recognize the Communist China-Pakistan border agreement ceding to Peking parts of Kashmir claimed by India.

He said that under the Kashmir border agreement signed last week, Pakistan surrendered 13,000 square miles of territory to China, according to 1962 Pakistan maps. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said later that India claims some 2,500 square miles of the region.

CATANIA, Italy (AP) — Mt. Etna, Europe's highest and most active volcano, erupted Tuesday after several months of relative quiet. Explosions in a secondary crater sent ashes and rock flying into the air. Smoke rose from the central crater.

Three White Men Accused With Assault On Negro

GREENWOOD, Miss. (UPI)—Three white men, including a 17-year-old youth, were charged with felonious assault Tuesday in the shooting last week of a Negro civil rights worker.

Local officials, meanwhile, issued a call for "friendship" between the races in this community, which integration leaders have threatened to turn into a battleground in the fight for Negroes' rights.

The youth, described as a high school student and a first offender, was arrested Tuesday night. Officials declined to identify him.

The shooting last week of 20-year-old Jimmy Travis brought an announcement from the Justice Department in Washington that federal agents were looking into the incident.

Local authorities Tuesday refused to answer any questions concerning two suspects arrested Monday night except to disclose their identities. They were identified as William H. Greenlee, an agent for an oil company, and Wesley Kersey, service manager for a distributing company.

Parents Of Quadruplets Doing Fine

She was still living over that 17-minute period of Monday when she watched the birth of her quadruplets, each as it arrived, the obstetrician holding the baby up for her to see.

"I didn't miss a thing," she said. "I feel oh, oh, so like it isn't happening to me but somebody else."

The birth of identical quadruplets came between 3:27 and 3:44 p.m. Monday.

Both the obstetrician, Dr. Vernon Noble, and the pediatrician, Dr. C. J. Stechschulte, said Tuesday the children "are doing very well."

Three of the larger girls may be discharged from the hospital in about two weeks, but the smaller probably will remain longer because of her weight problem.

The first two babies born weighed 4 pounds 2½ ounces each; the third 2 pounds 9½ ounces, and the fourth 3 pounds 1" ounces.

The physicians said the births were normal in every way—although they were a month premature.

While Mrs. Axe was getting a lot of attention, so was her husband, Phillip, 28, who is advertising promotion manager for the Lima Citizen.

"I feel wonderful," he said. "It's a feeling I don't think I'll ever feel again."

The babies have not been named because the parents said they can't find four names that seem to go together.

Axe said that by chance last November, he bought a five-bedroom house not realizing that he could use all five bedrooms.

Mongrel Dog Gets Special Medical Research Award

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A mongrel dog named Duke received Tuesday a special award from the National Society for Medical Research, "research dog hero of the year."

Duke, saved from the dog pound about a year and a half ago, underwent open heart surgery for a research team at the University of Oregon Medical School.

He recovered his vigor and health and Tuesday was feted for his part in the program.

Dr. Henry Harkins, of the University of Washington, representing the National Society for Medical Research, awarded Duke a monogramed silver collar and gold trophy.

3,000 Students Battle French Riot Police

PARIS (UPI) — Three thousand students battled with police Tuesday night in a demonstration supporting France's 200,000 striking coal miners and 500,000 state workers who called brief sympathy strikes during the day.

At least one student suffered head cuts when struck by a police nightstick during the half hour skirmish outside the Sorbonne University. The students tried to march from the university to the labor ministry but scores of riot police rushed to the scene broke up the march.

The students joined the 500,000 state-employed workers in protesting the government's threats of fine or imprisonment to try to crush the four-day-old miners' strike for higher wages despite President Charles de Gaulle's "work or else" orders.

De Gaulle met with four key ministers Tuesday to discuss what to do about the miners' defiance of the government threats and the 15-minute sympathy strikes throughout the nation.

In all but two of France's coal mines the only miners on duty were strike pickets or skeleton staffs responsible for shaft safety.

Spokesmen for the miners told reporters the miners will not go along with any government effort to compromise on their demand for an 11 per cent raise to meet increased living costs. The government offered 5.77 per cent over a 12-month period. The miners make from $120 to $200 a month.

De Gaulle has ordered his government to hold the line on wages. He fears a return to the wage-increasing price inflation which ruined the Fourth Republic.

Competition Increases For GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Competition for the 1964 Republican National Convention stepped up Tuesday with Miami Beach offering the largest cash bid so far—$600,000.

The bid by a delegation headed by Democratic Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida was the largest cash offer veteran reporters could remember ever being made to a site committee of either party.

In addition to the cash, Bryant said the Florida city would provide free rental of the convention hall, unlimited parking space, free air conditioning, and free janitor service.

He said the offer was backed by the entire state of Florida.

The largest previous offer was a combined cash and services bid of $650,000 from Philadelphia. Only slightly more than half the Philadelphia offer was in cash.

Bryant, accompanied by Florida's two Republican congressmen, Reps. Edward J. Gurney and William Cramer, and several Miami Beach officials, appeared before the committee after a delegation from San Francisco.

Miami Beach was the last of six cities bidding for the 1964 convention to appear before the committee's two-day closed session, which ended Tuesday.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco said his city offered $350,000 cash, plus revenues from such sources as convention programs and tickets, and was willing to negotiate further.

In addition to Miami Beach, San Francisco and Philadelphia, the cities bidding for the GOP convention are Detroit and Chicago. Dallas was in the early running but withdrew. The 1960 Republican convention was in Chicago.

During its final session, the site committee heard from representatives of the periodicals, press, radio and television, and press photographers in a discussion of their needs for the convention.

Peace Talks In News Strike Dragging Along

"I'm trying to get them to move faster," Mayor Robert F. Wagner told newsmen as he shepherded publishers and striking union printers through another day of negotiations.

Wagner volunteered 10 days ago to undertake a role outlined by President Kennedy as impartial umpire in the strike and to lay down his own nonbinding settlement terms. He has held back, however, with the resumption of negotiations.

"I set no specific time for such action," he said Tuesday. "I feel that if negotiations of this kind are no longer fruitful, then I will be prepared to take my next step."

Amory H. Bradford, vice president of the struck Times and chief negotiator for the Publishers Association of New York, said there had been some slight narrowing of differences in the deadlock. However, Bertram A. Powers reported "no progress, really."

Powers is president of Local 6, AFL-CIO International Typographical Union.

Bradford told newsmen that there had been some narrowing of differences on automation, the use of outside teletypesetter tape to set type.

Powers said the publishers had wanted to introduce a degree of automation prohibited by the old ITU contract without, in his view, offering enough job protection to the printers. The strike leader said that this issue was put aside until later, adding, "perhaps we'll have to revert to the old contract."

Kennedy's News Conference On TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's news conference at 11 a.m. EST Wednesday will be carried live on all television and radio networks, the White House said Tuesday.

This will be the 12th news conference Kennedy has had in the morning and the first morning session since last April 18. He has held 38 afternoon news conferences.

Parents Of Quadruplets Doing Fine

She was still living over that 17-minute period of Monday when she watched the birth of her quadruplets, each as it arrived, the obstetrician holding the baby up for her to see.

"I didn't miss a thing," she said. "I feel oh, oh, so like it isn't happening to me but somebody else."

The birth of identical quadruplets came between 3:27 and 3:44 p.m. Monday.

Both the obstetrician, Dr. Vernon Noble, and the pediatrician, Dr. C. J. Stechschulte, said Tuesday the children "are doing very well."

Three of the larger girls may be discharged from the hospital in about two weeks, but the smaller probably will remain longer because of her weight problem.

The first two babies born weighed 4 pounds 2½ ounces each; the third 2 pounds 9½ ounces, and the fourth 3 pounds 1" ounces.

The physicians said the births were normal in every way—although they were a month premature.

While Mrs. Axe was getting a lot of attention, so was her husband, Phillip, 28, who is advertising promotion manager for the Lima Citizen.

"I feel wonderful," he said. "It's a feeling I don't think I'll ever feel again."

The babies have not been named because the parents said they can't find four names that seem to go together.

Axe said that by chance last November, he bought a five-bedroom house not realizing that he could use all five bedrooms.

7 Drowned As Rain, Thaw Hit In East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flood waters drowned seven persons and drove hundreds of families from their homes Tuesday as rain or snow fell on wide areas of the eastern half of the country.

A tornado sliced into Bessemer, Ala., near Birmingham. There were reports of widespread damage but no injuries.

A waning storm that caught its second wind blanketed Omaha, Neb., with a 10-inch snowfall which caused vast morning rush-hour traffic jams.

Western and central Iowa were blanketed under as much as 10 inches of new snow. Many schools were closed, and driving was hazardous.

Freeze In Midwest

Snow and freezing rain slicked roads in eastern Kansas and Nebraska and from northern Missouri, Iowa and southern Minnesota eastward into southern Michigan.

Rains that doused many sections of the Midwest and East earlier this week sent floodwaters pouring over sections of Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The swirling Ohio River backwaters caused at least five drownings—three in West Virginia and two in Ohio. A man and his teenage daughter were missing and feared drowned in the Whitewater River in Indiana.

Train Derailed

Two youths at Xenia, Ohio, spent the night clinging to a tree inches above the roaring flood waters of the Little Miami River. Their canoe capsized when they were moving calves out of the way of the rising waters. An Air Force helicopter plucked them from their roost after nine hours.

Nehru Challenges Border Agreement

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said Tuesday India does not recognize the Communist China-Pakistan border agreement ceding to Peking parts of Kashmir claimed by India.

He said that under the Kashmir border agreement signed last week, Pakistan surrendered 13,000 square miles of territory to China, according to 1962 Pakistan maps. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said later that India claims some 2,500 square miles of the region.

CATANIA, Italy (AP) — Mt. Etna, Europe's highest and most active volcano, erupted Tuesday after several months of relative quiet. Explosions in a secondary crater sent ashes and rock flying into the air. Smoke rose from the central crater.

Mongrel Dog Gets Special Medical Research Award

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A mongrel dog named Duke received Tuesday a special award from the National Society for Medical Research, "research dog hero of the year."

Duke, saved from the dog pound about a year and a half ago, underwent open heart surgery for a research team at the University of Oregon Medical School.

He recovered his vigor and health and Tuesday was feted for his part in the program.

Dr. Henry Harkins, of the University of Washington, representing the National Society for Medical Research, awarded Duke a monogramed silver collar and gold trophy.

Delaware Court Hears Whipping Post Arguments

Justices Question Authority To Rule Constitutionality

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The judges of Delaware's Supreme Court heard oral arguments Tuesday on the constitutionality of the whipping post, and expressed grave doubts as to their authority or ability to rule in the case.

Chief Justice Clarence A. Southerland and justices Daniel F. Wolcott and Charles L. Terry Jr. questioned attorneys presenting arguments closely.

The case was carried to the state Supreme Court by Harold C. Schmittinger, counsel for Franklin W. Cannon, whose sentence of 20 lashes at the whipping post was reinstated after he violated parole last year. The date of the whipping never was set, pending the appeal.

Terry repeatedly asked Schmittinger how the court could determine what public opinion was on the issue.

"Isnt' legislative action supposed to be representative of public opinion," asked Terry. "If so, there has been a definite legislative policy since colonial days."

Schmittinger claimed that whipping is cruel today, although it may not have been at one time, because it is now considered uncivilized.

Delaware is the only state in the union which still has a whipping post but no one has been whipped in the last 11 years.

"At what point did it become cruel?" asked Wolcott.

Both Schmittinger and Harold M. Handelman, attorney for the Civil Liberties Union acting as a friend of the court, argued no date could be pinpointed.

Cannon, 20, of Dover, was sentenced to three years in prison and 20 lashes in 1961 for stealing a car. But the sentence was suspended by Judge Stewart Lynch. But when Cannon violated probation last year, Lynch reinstated the sentence.

Individual Bankruptcies On Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — Personal bankruptcies in the nation have jumped nearly 110 per cent over the past five years and bankers and retailers "see worse to come," according to Dun & Bradstreet.

An article in Dun's Review and Modern Industry published Monday said that in each of the last six years voluntary individual bankruptcies have touched a new high. Personal, as distinct from business failures, account for nine out of every ten bankruptcies.

The magazine said that the 110 per cent rise in bankruptcies in the last five years compares with a 41.7 per cent increase in consumer credit to a record $63.4 billion.

The article quotes Montgomery Ward Finance Vice President Charles J. Kushell Jr., as saying "the rate of increase (in bankruptcies) can quite properly be called alarming."

The magazine article says that to some extent retailers are responsible for their own difficulties. "As department stores, variety chains and discounters have multiplied over the past decade, their battles for the consumer dollar. . .has often led to over lenient credit policies."

Instructor Acquitted On Assault Charge In Washington Co.

The ruling by Magistrate William J. Dwyer came at a hearing on assault charges against Ronald Busey of Hagerstown, a teacher at Hancock High School. Dwyer found the defendant not guilty.

A 15-year-old student, Bernice Pryor of Hancock, had complained that she was injured when Busey grabbed her hair and let her fall to the floor.

"The right of the teacher to maintain discipline in the classroom is the same as the right of a parent to maintain discipline in the home," said Dwyer.

"The teacher-student relationship is as sacred a relationship as between the parent and child because the teacher stands in the place of the parent."

Miss Pryor, a 10th grader, testified that her hip and neck became sore after she had been punished. She said she had been told by Busey to stop talking in class, but she continued to talk.

Busey said he grabbed the girl's hair after she refused to stop talking. He testified that he shook her and let her fall back into her seat, but the seat overturned and Miss Pryor landed on the floor.

Dusey said he did not act in a spirit of anger, and that he had used corporal punishment only once before in his 2½ years of teaching.

William Brish, superintendent of Washington County schools, testified that teachers are prohibited by Maryland law from administering corporal punishment.

He cited this provision of the Maryland code:

"Under no circumstances shall a . . .teacher inflict corporal punishment on a pupil. Cases which seem to require corporal punishment shall be referred to the principal who may administer corporal punishment as a last resort."

The superintendent said teachers are usually advised not to administer corporal punishment "because it will be exaggerated out of all proportion."

"Teachers leave themselves open and don't have a leg to stand on," Brish said.

Area States Stricken

More than 800 families were driven from lowland and valley homes in West Virginia and Pennsylyania. About that many more fled to upper stories of their flooded houses.

Showers and a few thundershowers were scattered from the central Gulf states to Kentucky and eastward to the Atlantic.

Midday temperatures were in the 20s and 30s from the Rockies into the Plains and from the upper Mississippi Valley into the North Atlantic states. The warm 70s prevailed through the central Gulf and South Atlantic states, with a few 80s in southern Florida. The 30s and 40s were the rule in the Pacific Northwest, rising into the 60s in California.

There were 133 Democrats running for the City Council. Republican candidates were unopposed in two of the six election districts.

Man Accused In Political Mail Theft

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police arrested a 41-year-old man Tuesday and charged him with the theft Saturday of $1,500 worth of campaign literature from the Post Office.

The defendant, Courtlandt A.P. Trenor of Baltimore, later pleaded innocent at a hearing before Judge William Hudnet in Municipal Court.

"I don't know anything about this case," Trenor told the judge. "I only know what I read in the newspaper. . ."

Judge Hudnet granted a request by Trenor's lawyer, Alan Murrell, that the case be postponed until Thursday to give him time to prepare his case. Trenor was then released under $1,500 bond.

The literature, in 18 canvas bags, included sample ballots bearing the names of Democrat Philip H. Goodman, a mayoralty candidate, and his ticket mates.

The Post Office decided that since the mailing had not been paid for, it could not be considered mail. The decision thus ruled out the possibility of federal mail theft charges.

Workers No Longer Find Lifetime Job Security Without Retraining Because Of Scientific And Technical Changes

By JACK C. VANDENBERG

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anyone currently drawing a paycheck must be prepared to be displaced from his job at least three times before he retires.

According to Seymour Wolfbein, the Labor Department's manpower expert, the day is gone when anyone can expect to train himself for one job and keep it for a lifetime.

Wolfbein is director of the department's Office of Manpower, Automation and Training.

He said not even professional men, such as lawyers and doctors, can expect to continue in precisely the same line of work.

Wolfbein cited the case of a doctor of medicine who became a specialist in treating mastoids.

With the advent of penicillin, the incidence of mastoids dropped to such a low that this doctor had to go back to school to learn a new specialty, Wolfbein said.

Makes Switch Easily

But he said the transition for such professionally trained workers is relatively easy because they have a wide basic background. The doctor who specialized in treating mastoids remained in the field of medicine and his general training in the field made it easy for him to switch to another speciality, Wolfbein said.

The problem is not that simple for men trained in lower skills. A man trained as a switchman on a railroad would have a difficult time finding similar work when he is displaced by automatic switches controlled from a central tower, he said.

"I don't think the vast majority of our unskilled and semi-skilled workers are qualified to make the changes that will be demanded of them during their lifetime," Wolfbein said.

The increasing pace of changes in technology means that formal learning will become a lifelong necessity. Even high school and college educations will not be enough to prepare a man for a lifetime of work.

Broad Education Needed

But the broader a man's basic education is, the easier it will be for him to adjust and retrain himself for new conditions, he said. A man with a broader basic education will spend less time in retraining before he is able to switch from a job that has become outmoded to one that holds promise of future employment.

The government currently has underway a manpower retraining program to meet some of the needs for developing new skills.

Before the end of the year, the Labor Department expects to have retrained 70,000 workers under this program. Next year, the goal is to retrain 140,000. In three years, the government hopes to be able to retrain a total of 400,000.

Based on the limited experience of this program to date, the average worker can expect to spend 22.5 weeks in a retraining program each time he is forced to switch jobs. If he does not obtain formal retraining, the period between jobs will be even longer, Wolfbein said.

Internal Revenue Seizes Home Of Famed Blues Singer

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service disclosed Monday it has seized the $50,000 home of blues singer Sarah Vaughan for $29,000 in delinquent taxes.

On Jan. 24, Miss Vaughan broke into the home to retrieve some stage gowns and ran into resistance from her husband.

Police said Atkins fired two shots in a scuffle with preacher John Wells, a bartender who accompanied Miss Vaughan. The shots missed. Atkins filed a charge of assault and battery against Wells and Wells charged Atkins with assault with an offensive weapon.

BUYING A NEW HOME?

Be sure the heating system will meet your needs. Tear out this ad and ask your builder or realtor these heating questions.

1 Will the heating system be economical to operate? (No other modern, automatic heating system can match gas for economy.)

2 How is the house insulated? (With gas, normal insulation is used. With electrically heated homes, heavy insulation is required to help hold down heating costs. Excessive insulation, however, presents indoor moisture problems, seals fresh air out of the home, makes it stuffy inside.)

3 Will the heating system keep my basement warm? (It is impractical to heat basements with electric heat because of high operating costs. Forced air gas heat keeps your entire home cozy, including the basement, for less than it costs to heat just the upstairs alone with electric heat.)

4 How is the heat in the home circulated? (A gas forced air heating system gently moves the air throughout the home, mixes it; there are no hot spots, no cold spots. Electric resistance heating systems do not move the air; therefore, the heat is not evenly distributed and tends to stratify in layers.)

5 What provision in the heating system is made to filter the heated air and help keep the home clean? (A gas forced air heating system has filters which help clean the circulated air several times every hour. Electric resistance heating systems do not clean or filter the air in any way.)

6 Does the heating system make some dirt? (Contrary to what you might have read or heard, no dirt can be created by a forced air gas heating system. The heated air in your home never touches the clean gas flame. All products of combustion are vented outside the home. Most of the dirt in the home comes in through your door and windows or is tracked in on people's shoes. This dirt is present in all homes, regardless of how the home is heated.)

7 How is the heating system controlled? (With gas, just one thermostat is needed to keep your entire home comfortably warm. Electric heating systems often have a thermostat in every room. These are needed since there is no room-to-room heat circulation with an electric system.)

8 How safe is the heating system? (Properly installed heating systems of all types are safe. They must pass rigid safety tests and contain built-in safety devices.)

9 Can the heating system be easily converted to whole-house air conditioning? (Some experts predict that before long, no home will be considered modern—regardless of its age—unless it is completely air conditioned. A forced air gas heating system can be easily converted to central air conditioning because the ducts are already in place. Because electric resistance heating systems have no ducts, they cannot be used to air condition.)

FROM ANY ANGLE, IT MAKES GOOD SENSE TO HEAT WITH DEPENDABLE, CLEAN GAS

Individual Bankruptcies On Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — Personal bankruptcies in the nation have jumped nearly 110 per cent over the past five years and bankers and retailers "see worse to come," according to Dun & Bradstreet.

An article in Dun's Review and Modern Industry published Monday said that in each of the last six years voluntary individual bankruptcies have touched a new high. Personal, as distinct from business failures, account for nine out of every ten bankruptcies.

The magazine said that the 110 per cent rise in bankruptcies in the last five years compares with a 41.7 per cent increase in consumer credit to a record $63.4 billion.

The article quotes Montgomery Ward Finance Vice President Charles J. Kushell Jr., as saying "the rate of increase (in bankruptcies) can quite properly be called alarming."

The magazine article says that to some extent retailers are responsible for their own difficulties. "As department stores, variety chains and discounters have multiplied over the past decade, their battles for the consumer dollar. . .has often led to over lenient credit policies."

Instructor Acquitted On Assault Charge In Washington Co.

The ruling by Magistrate William J. Dwyer came at a hearing on assault charges against Ronald Busey of Hagerstown, a teacher at Hancock High School. Dwyer found the defendant not guilty.

A 15-year-old student, Bernice Pryor of Hancock, had complained that she was injured when Busey grabbed her hair and let her fall to the floor.

"The right of the teacher to maintain discipline in the classroom is the same as the right of a parent to maintain discipline in the home," said Dwyer.

"The teacher-student relationship is as sacred a relationship as between the parent and child because the teacher stands in the place of the parent."

Miss Pryor, a 10th grader, testified that her hip and neck became sore after she had been punished. She said she had been told by Busey to stop talking in class, but she continued to talk.

Busey said he grabbed the girl's hair after she refused to stop talking. He testified that he shook her and let her fall back into her seat, but the seat overturned and Miss Pryor landed on the floor.

Dusey said he did not act in a spirit of anger, and that he had used corporal punishment only once before in his 2½ years of teaching.

William Brish, superintendent of Washington County schools, testified that teachers are prohibited by Maryland law from administering corporal punishment.

He cited this provision of the Maryland code:

"Under no circumstances shall a . . .teacher inflict corporal punishment on a pupil. Cases which seem to require corporal punishment shall be referred to the principal who may administer corporal punishment as a last resort."

The superintendent said teachers are usually advised not to administer corporal punishment "because it will be exaggerated out of all proportion."

"Teachers leave themselves open and don't have a leg to stand on," Brish said.

At stake in the election were the Republican and Democratic nominations for mayor, City Council presidency, comptroller, and 20 seats on the City Council.

The independents felt they needed a large turnout to counteract the votes of the organization candidates, who get support rain or shine.

The polls opened at 6 a.m. and closed at 7 p.m.

"This is the quietest primary I've ever seen here," said E. Paul Mason Jr., chief clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Elections, early in the day.

There were about 400,000 persons eligible to vote at the 575 polling places. The general election will be May 7.

There were 133 Democrats running for the City Council. Republican candidates were unopposed in two of the six election districts.

Man Accused In Political Mail Theft

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police arrested a 41-year-old man Tuesday and charged him with the theft Saturday of $1,500 worth of campaign literature from the Post Office.

The defendant, Courtlandt A.P. Trenor of Baltimore, later pleaded innocent at a hearing before Judge William Hudnet in Municipal Court.

"I don't know anything about this case," Trenor told the judge. "I only know what I read in the newspaper. . ."

Judge Hudnet granted a request by Trenor's lawyer, Alan Murrell, that the case be postponed until Thursday to give him time to prepare his case. Trenor was then released under $1,500 bond.

The literature, in 18 canvas bags, included sample ballots bearing the names of Democrat Philip H. Goodman, a mayoralty candidate, and his ticket mates.

The Post Office decided that since the mailing had not been paid for, it could not be considered mail. The decision thus ruled out the possibility of federal mail theft charges.

Workers No Longer Find Lifetime Job Security Without Retraining Because Of Scientific And Technical Changes

By JACK C. VANDENBERG

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anyone currently drawing a paycheck must be prepared to be displaced from his job at least three times before he retires.

According to Seymour Wolfbein, the Labor Department's manpower expert, the day is gone when anyone can expect to train himself for one job and keep it for a lifetime.

Wolfbein is director of the department's Office of Manpower, Automation and Training.

He said not even professional men, such as lawyers and doctors, can expect to continue in precisely the same line of work.

Wolfbein cited the case of a doctor of medicine who became a specialist in treating mastoids.

With the advent of penicillin, the incidence of mastoids dropped to such a low that this doctor had to go back to school to learn a new specialty, Wolfbein said.

Makes Switch Easily

But he said the transition for such professionally trained workers is relatively easy because they have a wide basic background. The doctor who specialized in treating mastoids remained in the field of medicine and his general training in the field made it easy for him to switch to another speciality, Wolfbein said.

The problem is not that simple for men trained in lower skills. A man trained as a switchman on a railroad would have a difficult time finding similar work when he is displaced by automatic switches controlled from a central tower, he said.

"I don't think the vast majority of our unskilled and semi-skilled workers are qualified to make the changes that will be demanded of them during their lifetime," Wolfbein said.

The increasing pace of changes in technology means that formal learning will become a lifelong necessity. Even high school and college educations will not be enough to prepare a man for a lifetime of work.

Broad Education Needed

But the broader a man's basic education is, the easier it will be for him to adjust and retrain himself for new conditions, he said. A man with a broader basic education will spend less time in retraining before he is able to switch from a job that has become outmoded to one that holds promise of future employment.

The government currently has underway a manpower retraining program to meet some of the needs for developing new skills.

Before the end of the year, the Labor Department expects to have retrained 70,000 workers under this program. Next year, the goal is to retrain 140,000. In three years, the government hopes to be able to retrain a total of 400,000.

Based on the limited experience of this program to date, the average worker can expect to spend 22.5 weeks in a retraining program each time he is forced to switch jobs. If he does not obtain formal retraining, the period between jobs will be even longer, Wolfbein said.

Internal Revenue Seizes Home Of Famed Blues Singer

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service disclosed Monday it has seized the $50,000 home of blues singer Sarah Vaughan for $29,000 in delinquent taxes.

On Jan. 24, Miss Vaughan broke into the home to retrieve some stage gowns and ran into resistance from her husband.

Police said Atkins fired two shots in a scuffle with preacher John Wells, a bartender who accompanied Miss Vaughan. The shots missed. Atkins filed a charge of assault and battery against Wells and Wells charged Atkins with assault with an offensive weapon.

BUYING A NEW HOME?

Be sure the heating system will meet your needs. Tear out this ad and ask your builder or realtor these heating questions.

1 Will the heating system be economical to operate? (No other modern, automatic heating system can match gas for economy.)

2 How is the house insulated? (With gas, normal insulation is used. With electrically heated homes, heavy insulation is required to help hold down heating costs. Excessive insulation, however, presents indoor moisture problems, seals fresh air out of the home, makes it stuffy inside.)

3 Will the heating system keep my basement warm? (It is impractical to heat basements with electric heat because of high operating costs. Forced air gas heat keeps your entire home cozy, including the basement, for less than it costs to heat just the upstairs alone with electric heat.)

4 How is the heat in the home circulated? (A gas forced air heating system gently moves the air throughout the home, mixes it; there are no hot spots, no cold spots. Electric resistance heating systems do not move the air; therefore, the heat is not evenly distributed and tends to stratify in layers.)

5 What provision in the heating system is made to filter the heated air and help keep the home clean? (A gas forced air heating system has filters which help clean the circulated air several times every hour. Electric resistance heating systems do not clean or filter the air in any way.)

6 Does the heating system make some dirt? (Contrary to what you might have read or heard, no dirt can be created by a forced air gas heating system. The heated air in your home never touches the clean gas flame. All products of combustion are vented outside the home. Most of the dirt in the home comes in through your door and windows or is tracked in on people's shoes. This dirt is present in all homes, regardless of how the home is heated.)

7 How is the heating system controlled? (With gas, just one thermostat is needed to keep your entire home comfortably warm. Electric heating systems often have a thermostat in every room. These are needed since there is no room-to-room heat circulation with an electric system.)

8 How safe is the heating system? (Properly installed heating systems of all types are safe. They must pass rigid safety tests and contain built-in safety devices.)

9 Can the heating system be easily converted to whole-house air conditioning? (Some experts predict that before long, no home will be considered modern—regardless of its age—unless it is completely air conditioned. A forced air gas heating system can be easily converted to central air conditioning because the ducts are already in place. Because electric resistance heating systems have no ducts, they cannot be used to air condition.)

Group Opposes Dump Site In Midlothian Section

A delegation of residents of Midlothian appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to protest plans for the establishment of a garbage and refuse dump adjacent to the community.

Lee Barnett, attorney for the group, presented a petition bearing the signatures of 179 residents of Midlothian and also pointed out the objections to the dump.

Barnett said that the site of the dump in an open cut of a former strip mine area is a hazard to a reservoir and one spring used as a water supply by the people living in Midlothian.

He also stated that the coal seam just below the surface is burning and has been for at least 57 years and this would cause a cloud of smoke to permeate the atmosphere. Rats and other vermin would infest the dump and also the immediate residential area, it was claimed. The odor from such a dump would also be offensive and a health hazard.

Some of the Midlothian people at yesterday's meeting said they have borne for about 30 years similar conditions at another dump not far away which has been operated by the town of Frostburg.

It was suggested that an incinerator be erected to take care of the garbage from the section. The protestants said they feel that even if the dump were not located in their community it should not be established in some other area where other people would be affected.

Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon said that the board had taken the advice of the County Health Department in plans for the dump and that no action will be taken which would prove harmful to the Midlothian residents.

Commissioner Russell Carder said he is aware of the problem in the area in which trash and garbage has been dumped along roadways in the Midlothian section and that something has to be done to eliminate the 'eyesore' as well as the health hazard.

Commissioner Robert Little Ebert said that the county faces a difficult problem and it had been hoped that a system of regional dumps would not only provide a safe method of refuse disposal but would also do away with the indiscriminate trash dumping along roadways. "We don't want to offend anyone in the process," he stated.

The Shaft Volunteer Fire Company also protested the dump location in a letter to the board.

Cleanup Plan Poses Problems

"There's no easy way out."

That apparently is the consensus of a representative group of local businessmen, city officials and groups attending an exploratory meeting yesterday at City Hall on problems facing the Street Department concerning a general cleanup.

As has been the case over the years, the backbone of a program to be setup is the creation of civic pride together with enforcement of existing laws or those to be created in the matter of street cleaning, weed removal, dirt on sidewalks, snow removal and control of pigeons in the downtown area.

When the meeting ended, it was decided to set up a cleanup program on an experimental basis, using a business area and residential area as a "test" section.

This was described as a "beginning" toward an overall program and will be handled by a small committee.

The meeting was called by Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder who said that while there are certain responsibilities which fall to her department, not all of them can be assumed by the department, and must necessarily fall on businessmen, other city departments as well as the private citizen.

Citizens, and many have made phone calls, want relief, Mrs. Roeder said, adding that she is seeking a "practical approach" to the situation in order to come up with a workable, year-around continuing plan.

Considerable discussion was held on the downtown merchant responsibility in keeping the area around his place of business clean.

General areas covered were parking restrictions which would clear certain downtown areas of cars during night hours; a "washdown" instead of a "sweepdown" each day by merchants; purchase of a street flusher; more stringent ordinances and laws; cessation of the sale of city-owned lots until such time as it is determined if they can be converted into parking facilities; and changing hours which the city dump is available to individuals so that daylight workers could have more use of it.

The group also touched briefly on the annual Cleanup Week Campaign which is tentatively scheduled the first week of May.

County Road Foreman Is Discharged

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved the recommendation of Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, in the discharge of a foreman in the Roads Department on seven specific charges arising out of the cutting and sale of pulpwood.

Skelly submitted his recommendation in a three-page letter in which he outlined the investigation into the use of county equipment in hauling the pulpwood which was cut from along the Pack Horse Road, old Oldtown Road and Green Ridge Road in December of 1962 and January of 1963.

The man whose discharge was approved by the board is Theodore R. Robertson, who is foreman of the roads crew working out of the district garage in the Oldtown area.

The pulpwood was cut along the county's right-of-way on the three roadways and was in excess of the thinning out normally called for, Skelly charged. The pulpwood, according to Skelly, was later reportedly sold to the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Both Skelly and the county commissioners asked William F. Baker, county investigator, to make a probe into the matter. Baker submitted a lengthy and detailed report of his investigation.

Literature Group To Hear David Nuzum

David Nuzum of the faculty of Potomac State College, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Literature Group of the Woman's Civic Club March 14. Mrs. Robert Bruce will conduct the meeting, which will be at 1:30 p. m. at the club house.

Mr. Nuzum will discuss "Madam Castel's Lodger," by Francis Parkinson Keyes.

This is a fictionalized biography of possibly the most colorful of the Confederate generals. Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard was a popular hero, idolized by the South. He was chivalric in the best Southern tradition. He was considered second not even to Lee. Beauregard was an accomplished soldier, the perfect gentleman and a sincere Christian.

"Madam Castel's Lodger" is the story of New Orleans, where the audience will visit the famous French Quarter, as well as the renowned St. Louis Cathedral opposite Jackson Square; vicariously the world-known Canal Street, seen on television this past week with scenes from the Mardi Gras.

Mr. Nuzum reports the story is appropriate for the year because just 200 years ago West Virginia seceded twice, once with and once from Virginia.

He points out the book is readable, and generously illustrated, and the author says on page 460, "To the best of my knowledge and belief, no liberties have been taken with the known facts of history . . . conversations are, of course, imaginary; but in every case they are based either on real situations or on situations which are typical of time, place and condition."

Educational Opportunities Discussed

Pointing out that only the upper 10 to 15 per cent of people in other countries have the opportunity for education and 85 to 90 per cent do not have the chance for an elementary education, Dr. Lillian C. Compton told members of the Allegany County Elementary Principals Association, "We should be grateful we are living in America, and do not fully realize it until we see other countries."

Dr. Compton was guest speaker at the bi-monthly dinner meeting of the association, held Monday evening at Barton's Restaurant. Her subject was "Educational Opportunities of Children in Other Countries of the World," which she supplemented with color slides which she took on her recent trip around the world. She stressed the fact that so many children in other countries would like an education but do not have the opportunity. She told of seeing so many small children working, even selling post cards.

Miss Alma Logsdon presided at the brief business meeting, at which time various committee reports were given. She appointed Mrs. Sue Dawson chairman for the next dinner meeting, which will be May 6. Her committee includes Miss Agnes Lauder, Mrs. Gertrude Collins, Oberlin Chaney, Miss Hazen Inskeep, Kendrick Hodgdon and Earl Brain.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Start Slimming For Summer

Is spring the time of year when you look in the mirror and say, "Oh, well, I just won't go swimming this summer?" Do you realize, too, that after the first few days of a heat wave you'll give up and pour your over-abundant self into a swim suit? Will you also wish that you had done "something" about it while there was still time?

Well, the time is right now, and the "something" to be done is looking to your diet! Exercise is fine, of course, and it will help — but the one way to really melt excess weight is to exercise control over your intake.

First of all, consult your doctor before embarking on any diet. It is most important to get his advice. Besides, it's good to have a sensible advisor in your corner as you wage the good fight.

Then face' the fact that any lasting change in your weight is going to mean some change in your eating habits. If you spend some hard weeks at first shedding pounds, you won't want to waste the effort by eating your way back to the starting point. It may be that your present diet is reasonable, and can be resumed after you lose a few pounds — if you're not gaining right now, but need to lose some weight.

You can't stay on calorie-controlled liquids for too long. This regimen is too drastic, too monotonous, and possibly dangerous. But if you and the doctor agree that the novel approach will help your determination; if you like the dramatic kick-off of losing a lot of weight quickly — this method may give you needed incentive to continue dieting with slower-but- surer losses. After a while on just liquids, a moderate diet will seem like feasting!

The liquid diets do avoid the danger of most fads, because they provide balanced nutrition. Though they are essentially just skim milk, corn oil and flavoring, they are fortified with all the vitamin and mineral requirements known.

Less rigorous diets, good exercises, and beauty tips are contained in my booklet, "Summerizing Your Beauty." Send your request to me, John Robert Powers, in care of this newspaper, with 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The important thing is, don't wait till summer to begin!

Service Group To Hold Lunch Meeting Thursday

The Community Service Group of the Woman's Civic Club will hold a luncheon meeting at 12:30 Thursday at the club house. Mrs. Raymond Lapp Jr., will preside at the business session.

Following the business there will be a presentation of a film, on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Joseph M. Miller is chairman for the luncheon arrangements. She is being assisted by Mrs. A. G. Wallis and Mrs. J. L. Shafferman. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Miller, PA 2-3919, by today.

Organ Recital To Be May 5

May 5 was selected by the Young Organist Club at the meeting Sunday for a recital as its observance of the 40th National Music Week, May 5-12.

Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis Sr. spoke on "Know Your Instruments." Discussing how organs respond differently, she explained that the same stop sounds differently on other makes of organs, so one should not be a "slave" to stops suggested by the arranger, but should select his own stops and know what the organ is capable of doing.

The meeting, at Central Methodist Church, was conducted by Gary O'Neal. William Iames played "Home on the Range;" Judy Iames "The Snake Dance;" Bonnie Harrison, "Waltz of the Peppermint;" Donna Leasy, "In the Silence of the Garden;" Ann Hardinger, "Chorus and Praise" and Gary O'Neal, "Heroic Piece."

Mrs. Grover C. Long, club president, has appointed several committees for next week's meeting. The speech contest committee includes Mrs. Barry White, Mrs. Thomas James and Mrs. Raymond Smith. Mrs. White is in charge of reservations and Mrs. Marian W. Heiskell is tickets chairman.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Even the most contented babies are sometimes beset by end-of-the-day crankiness. These out-of-sorts spells are often as much the result of boredom as of fatigue. A mother I know cures these cross-patch spells by providing a special social hour for her baby. There may be a game of peek-a-boo, a bit of knee dandling, a merry song or two. Another time there'll be a mother-baby gab-fest (any words or coos will do) or a 3-way romp with dad. Amazing how these family circle doings chase baby blues.

More cheer-up strategy. Babies brighten up when supper features a succulent Gerber Strained Meat, like Chicken, Beef or Ham. (Just 3 of 9 delightful varieties.) That's because the savory true-meat flavors have special baby-appeal. Made from selected Armour cuts, these quality meats are specially processed to remove most of the fat. For baby's nutritional build-up, Gerber Meats are high in protein . . . the big contributor to growth and muscle development.

Note from the Gerber nutritionist: "Serving your baby many kinds of vegetables and fruits helps build good food habits for future years. They provide a wide variety of taste experiences when food acceptances are most easily established."

Memo from Dan Gerber. "One of the continuing projects in our Agricultural Research program is exhaustive experimentation with vegetable varieties to find those with the highest nutritive values . . . the best flavor and color. Take Gerber Sweet Potatoes. A seven-year experiment with several sweet potato varieties resulted in the development of two special Gerber varieties which have considerably more vitamin-A value and appreciably more vitamin C than ordinary sweet potatoes. Also superior color and flavor." Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Literature Group To Hear David Nuzum

David Nuzum of the faculty of Potomac State College, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Literature Group of the Woman's Civic Club March 14. Mrs. Robert Bruce will conduct the meeting, which will be at 1:30 p. m. at the club house.

Mr. Nuzum will discuss "Madam Castel's Lodger," by Francis Parkinson Keyes.

This is a fictionalized biography of possibly the most colorful of the Confederate generals. Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard was a popular hero, idolized by the South. He was chivalric in the best Southern tradition. He was considered second not even to Lee. Beauregard was an accomplished soldier, the perfect gentleman and a sincere Christian.

"Madam Castel's Lodger" is the story of New Orleans, where the audience will visit the famous French Quarter, as well as the renowned St. Louis Cathedral opposite Jackson Square; vicariously the world-known Canal Street, seen on television this past week with scenes from the Mardi Gras.

Mr. Nuzum reports the story is appropriate for the year because just 200 years ago West Virginia seceded twice, once with and once from Virginia.

He points out the book is readable, and generously illustrated, and the author says on page 460, "To the best of my knowledge and belief, no liberties have been taken with the known facts of history . . . conversations are, of course, imaginary; but in every case they are based either on real situations or on situations which are typical of time, place and condition."

Week Being Observed

"Go Everywhere Preaching" is the topic of the service to be held tonight 7:30 at the LaVale Baptist Church. Tomorrow evening, "Arise and Go into the City," will be the topic of the program tomorrow evening by the Evenly-Hayes circle; and "Enter Open Doors," Friday by the Women's Missionary Union.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Start Slimming For Summer

Is spring the time of year when you look in the mirror and say, "Oh, well, I just won't go swimming this summer?" Do you realize, too, that after the first few days of a heat wave you'll give up and pour your over-abundant self into a swim suit? Will you also wish that you had done "something" about it while there was still time?

Well, the time is right now, and the "something" to be done is looking to your diet! Exercise is fine, of course, and it will help — but the one way to really melt excess weight is to exercise control over your intake.

First of all, consult your doctor before embarking on any diet. It is most important to get his advice. Besides, it's good to have a sensible advisor in your corner as you wage the good fight.

Then face the fact that any lasting change in your weight is going to mean some change in your eating habits. If you spend some hard weeks at first shedding pounds, you won't want to waste the effort by eating your way back to the starting point. It may be that your present diet is reasonable, and can be resumed after you lose a few pounds — if you're not gaining right now, but need to lose some weight.

You can't stay on calorie-controlled liquids for too long. This regimen is too drastic, too monotonous, and possibly dangerous. But if you and the doctor agree that the novel approach will help your determination; if you like the dramatic kick-off of losing a lot of weight quickly — this method may give you needed incentive to continue dieting with slower-but- surer losses. After a while on just liquids, a moderate diet will seem like feasting!

The liquid diets do avoid the danger of most fads, because they provide balanced nutrition. Though they are essentially just skim milk, corn oil and flavoring, they are fortified with all the vitamin and mineral requirements known.

Less rigorous diets, good exercises, and beauty tips are contained in my booklet, "Summerizing Your Beauty." Send your request to me, John Robert Powers, in care of this newspaper, with 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The important thing is, don't wait till summer to begin!

Educational Opportunities Discussed

Pointing out that only the upper 10 to 15 per cent of people in other countries have the opportunity for education and 85 to 90 per cent do not have the chance for an elementary education, Dr. Lillian C. Compton told members of the Allegany County Elementary Principals Association, "We should be grateful we are living in America, and do not fully realize it until we see other countries."

Dr. Compton was guest speaker at the bi-monthly dinner meeting of the association, held Monday evening at Barton's Restaurant. Her subject was "Educational Opportunities of Children in Other Countries of the World," which she supplemented with color slides which she took on her recent trip around the world. She stressed the fact that so many children in other countries would like an education but do not have the opportunity. She told of seeing so many small children working, even selling post cards.

Another is to accept every opportunity to participate in educational activities. Mrs. Baker reported on thanks and appreciation presents to a shut-in. After singing the national anthem, refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be April 6 at the home of Mrs. Frost, Cumberland.

Bringing Up Baby®

Even the most contented babies are sometimes beset by end-of-the-day crankiness. These out-of-sorts spells are often as much the result of boredom as of fatigue. A mother I know cures these cross-patch spells by providing a special social hour for her baby. There may be a game of peek-a-boo, a bit of knee dandling, a merry song or two. Another time there'll be a mother-baby gab-fest (any words or coos will do) or a 3-way romp with dad. Amazing how these family circle doings chase baby blues.

More cheer-up strategy. Babies brighten up when supper features a succulent Gerber Strained Meat, like Chicken, Beef or Ham. (Just 3 of 9 delightful varieties.) That's because the savory true-meat flavors have special baby-appeal. Made from selected Armour cuts, these quality meats are specially processed to remove most of the fat. For baby's nutritional build-up, Gerber Meats are high in protein . . . the big contributor to growth and muscle development.

Note from the Gerber nutritionist: "Serving your baby many kinds of vegetables and fruits helps build good food habits for future years. They provide a wide variety of taste experiences when food acceptances are most easily established."

Memo from Dan Gerber. "One of the continuing projects in our Agricultural Research program is exhaustive experimentation with vegetable varieties to find those with the highest nutritive values . . . the best flavor and color. Take Gerber Sweet Potatoes. A seven-year experiment with several sweet potato varieties resulted in the development of two special Gerber varieties which have considerably more vitamin-A value and appreciably more vitamin C than ordinary sweet potatoes. Also superior color and flavor." Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. The Celanese Fibers Company has furnished $59,257 worth of acetate yarn produced at Amcelle Plant to South Korea in transactions financed under the U. S. Economic Development Program, the agency for International Development said yesterday.

The amount represents the value of recent shipments from the Cumberland plant under supply contracts awarded by various firms in Seoul and Taegu, Korea. The figures include freight and other costs.

Economic development agreements, administered by AID, emphasize procurement from American sources in order to help keep approximately two-thirds of aid dollars in the U.S. economy.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Sounds to me like one of the biggest deals of the week — the buying for a substantial sum in excess of a million dollars all the written works of the late John Van Druten. This is what Les Hafner has done, who believes like William Shakespeare that "The Play's the Thing."

I had forgotten how many plays and books Van Druten, (a very good friend of mine before his death.) Had written —, "Voice of the Turtle," "Bell, Book and Candle," "Young Woodley," and "I Am A Camera." There are sixty-one stories in all.

Hafner's first project for motion pictures is the re-make of "Voice of the Turtle," in which Margaret Sullivan was so charming.

Director Andy McLaglen and star Robert Sterling are back from New York where they completed a "Naked City" TV segment. But that isn't all accomplished by these two who have become business partners as well as a twosome on the golf course.

On the way home they detoured to Detroit to talk with former golf champ Walter Hagen about their TV special "The Walter Hagen Story." But this isn't the only project in their future.

Bob, Andy bought, while in New York, a novel by the Reverend David Wilkerson, "The Cross and the Switchblade," which Bernard Geis is publishing. It's a startling tale of the effort of a priest to curb the "switchblade set," the dangerous delinquents.

Jane Fonda, who is very choosey about directors, told producer Everett Freeman she's delighted that he has Peter Tewksbury, famed mostly for his TV hits, to direct her and Cliff Robertson in the movie version of "Sunday in New York."

Tewksbury's most recent TV hit was "It's a Man's World," a series that set off an awful howl when it was unexpectedly cancelled off the air. More fans wrote in protesting the end of this series than almost anything else on TV according to the TV editors. Other shows directed by Tewksbury were "Father Knows Best" and "My Three Sons."

The Hollywood Foreign Press Association hands out its golden gloves awards Wednesday night at the Cocoanut Grove. Which reminds me that in 1961, this group voted Mark Damon as the "International Star of Tomorrow."

Mark has been in Europe making movies practically ever since! He writes me: "I'm starting my seventh film in Europe in the past year and a half. I'm set to co-star with Boris Karloff in 'Fear' which is being made here in Rome for Galatea Productions. I'm also slated for 'The Long Ships' with Richard Widmark and Sidney Poitier."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Shirley Booth gets another statuette to add to the Oscar, Emmy, and Tony she already won. She's been voted the Genii award by the radio and television women in Southern California for her contributions to TV in the "Hazel" series.

Nunnally Johnson, readying "Take Her, She's Mine" at 20th, takes off for New York to huddle with Darryl Zanuck about still another property. It's "High Wind in Jamaica" for which Nunnally would like to get Peter Ustinov to direct, and also to appear in the movie.

Academy award nominee Ed Begley, who nominated for "Sweet Bird of Youth" in supporting category, had a second heartwarming experience this week. He is at Otterbine College, a small school in Ohio, starring in a stage production of "J.B.", and was given a party to celebrate his nomination.

So anxious was the Cocoanut Grove to sign Donald O'Connor for his first nightclub appearance in Los Angeles, they offered him the first multiple booking in their 37-year history. Donald opens at the Grove for three weeks beginning March 20th, and then returns November 12th for another three weeks. Good deal for the Grove to get the O'Connor talent.

Embankment Removal Asked

John D. Bushby, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, has written to Harry T. Skelly, county roads department supervisor that an embankment at the intersection of Cash Valley Road and State Route 36 should be removed to provide better sight distances for motorists.

Bushby inquired if the county would participate in the cost, which is estimated at $1,200, so that the work could be done as soon as possible.

Skelly reported on the matter at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and was instructed to discuss the plan with Bushby.

Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon said that the work should be done as soon as possible as it is a traffic hazard. The speed limit on Route 36 in the area is 50 miles an hour, he said, and removal of the embankment would help prevent accidents at the intersection.

Skelly said that the embankment limits the sight of motorists at the intersection to about 300 feet and its removal would extend the sight distance to 3,000 feet.

South, declarer in today's hand, gave a convincing demonstration of the shell game at its best. In the process he effected the disappearance of one of the adverse trump tricks, and brought in his ambitious game contract in spades.

West opened the deuce of hearts and East's jack forced out the ace. Prospects for declarer were indeed bleak, for he was faced with the loss of two trump tricks and one each in hearts and diamonds. A discard was available on dummy's long club but, with the heart ace dislodged and the adverse trumps still outstanding, South appeared to be utterly at the mercy of his opponents.

One vague chance suggested itself and that was to cross over to the dummy and lead the spade jack in the hope of crashing the adverse honors, if East started with the king and one spade and could be induced to cover an honor. However, East's actions in the bidding convinced South that this opponent was more apt to have the ace of spades, and declarer decided to rest his hopes on a legitimate prospect that hinged on finding an even division in clubs and split spade honors.

After taking the heart opening, South played the ace, king and another club and sighed a breath of relief when all hands followed. Next came a fourth round of clubs, and the defense was helpless when declarer sluffed his small heart. If East trumped, it would be with a natural spade trick, and the defense would be limited to another spade and a diamond.

If West were permitted to ruff the fourth club, the result would be the same, for a trump lead would now bump both honors and the ace of diamonds could do no more than complete the defensive book.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I want to be fair so I will start off by saying I've had many male teachers and most of them were gentlemen. But this male teacher I am writing about is a problem, not only to me but to other girls.

This teacher is the only one in the school who teaches a specialized subject and there's no way to avoid him. Bluntly, he can't seem to keep his hands off the girls. When I ask him a question he puts his head close to mine and whispers into my ear. Sometimes he adjusts my beads or flattens my collar or straightens my hairbow.

Yesterday he put his hands around my shoulders when he talked to me and I almost died of embarrassment. This was in front of the whole class.

He does the same thing to many girls so it isn't just me. So far as I know he never goes any further than just pawing, but it makes me uncomfortable and I don't know how to handle it. Can you help?

—JUNIOR MISS

DEAR MISS: More often than not, pawers, touchers, and nudgers are unaware they have the habit. The best cure is to gently but firmly remove the pawer's hands from your shoulders, beads, collar or what have you.

Make a point of what you are doing. He will become aware that this habit is annoying to you and can then set out to overcome it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm considering marrying Linda whom I've been dating for two years. The only thing standing in the way is a problem which may have no significance but it's gnawing at me and raising doubts.

Linda frequently calls me Chuck which is not my name. Chuck is a fellow we are both acquainted with, but so far I know she has never gone out with him and there is nothing between them.

Linda seems normal in every other way and can remember everybody else's name. Why can't she remember mine? Only yesterday she phoned her mother in my presence and told her that Chuck would bring her home about 11 o'clock.

Can this mean that Linda has Chuck on her mind and that I'm a fool to consider her for a wife?

—NOT CHUCK

DEAR NOT: People often misspeak themselves.

Every mother alive has called one of her children by another child's name. In fact some mothers go through three or four names before they hit the right one. The next time Linda calls you Chuck—say, "Yes, Ophelia."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from the grandfather who was disgusted because he received a birthday gift with a card which said, "With love from Bonnie, Don, Mac, Sue, Hal, Mary, Gerry, Debbie—etc." was wonderful.

I'm a grandfather, too, and like the man who wrote, I select gifts for my family with loving care. Yet, year after year, my children send me things which show so little thought I'd prefer no gift at all.

For Christmas my daughter sent me a leather belt which is six inches too small. My son sent a heavy wool shirt, the kind men in Michigan wear for hunting. I live in Miami and have no use for such a shirt. Another daughter sent cuff links. I don't own one shirt with French cuffs.

My 11-year-old grandson sent me a cake of soap, which was the only gift I could use. Strangely enough, his mother wrote and apologized for the gift, thinking I might be offended.

Please tell people, Ann, that sending a gift just to take care of an obligation is no compliment. And the receiver can always tell.

Miss Dorothy Stone White is director for "The Sea Gull," which was opened at the Shubert Theatre by Theatre Guild, Inc., on March 28, 1938. The cast included Lynn Fontanne, Alfred Lunt, Richard Whorf, Uta Hagen and Margaret Webster.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Sounds to me like one of the biggest deals of the week — the buying for a substantial sum in excess of a million dollars all the written works of the late John Van Druten. This is what Les Hafner has done, who believes like William Shakespeare that "The Play's the Thing."

I had forgotten how many plays and books Van Druten, (a very good friend of mine before his death.) Had written —, "Voice of the Turtle," "Bell, Book and Candle," "Young Woodley," and "I Am A Camera." There are sixty-one stories in all.

Hafner's first project for motion pictures is the re-make of "Voice of the Turtle," in which Margaret Sullivan was so charming.

In addition to the Van Druten plays, Les already owns the world wide TV rights to Richard Rodgers, Lorenz Hart and John O'Hara's "Pal Joey."

Director Andy McLaglen and star Robert Sterling are back from New York where they completed a "Naked City" TV segment. But that isn't all accomplished by these two who have become business partners as well as a twosome on the golf course.

On the way home they detoured to Detroit to talk with former golf champ Walter Hagen about their TV special "The Walter Hagen Story." But this isn't the only project in their future.

Bob, Andy bought, while in New York, a novel by the Reverend David Wilkerson, "The Cross and the Switchblade," which Bernard Geis is publishing. It's a startling tale of the effort of a priest to curb the "switchblade set," the dangerous delinquents.

Jane Fonda, who is very choosey about directors, told producer Everett Freeman she's delighted that he has Peter Tewksbury, famed mostly for his TV hits, to direct her and Cliff Robertson in the movie version of "Sunday in New York."

Tewksbury's most recent TV hit was "It's a Man's World," a series that set off an awful howl when it was unexpectedly cancelled off the air. More fans wrote in protesting the end of this series than almost anything else on TV according to the TV editors. Other shows directed by Tewksbury were "Father Knows Best" and "My Three Sons."

The Hollywood Foreign Press Association hands out its golden gloves awards Wednesday night at the Cocoanut Grove. Which reminds me that in 1961, this group voted Mark Damon as the "International Star of Tomorrow."

Mark has been in Europe making movies practically ever since! He writes me: "I'm starting my seventh film in Europe in the past year and a half. I'm set to co-star with Boris Karloff in 'Fear' which is being made here in Rome for Galatea Productions. I'm also slated for 'The Long Ships' with Richard Widmark and Sidney Poitier."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Shirley Booth gets another statuette to add to the Oscar, Emmy, and Tony she already won. She's been voted the Genii award by the radio and television women in Southern California for her contributions to TV in the "Hazel" series.

Nunnally Johnson, readying "Take Her, She's Mine" at 20th, takes off for New York to huddle with Darryl Zanuck about still another property. It's "High Wind in Jamaica" for which Nunnally would like to get Peter Ustinov to direct, and also to appear in the movie.

Academy award nominee Ed Begley, who nominated for "Sweet Bird of Youth" in supporting category, had a second heartwarming experience this week. He is at Otterbine College, a small school in Ohio, starring in a stage production of "J.B.", and was given a party to celebrate his nomination.

So anxious was the Cocoanut Grove to sign Donald O'Connor for his first nightclub appearance in Los Angeles, they offered him the first multiple booking in their 37-year history. Donald opens at the Grove for three weeks beginning March 20th, and then returns November 12th for another three weeks. Good deal for the Grove to get the O'Connor talent.

Embankment Removal Asked

John D. Bushby, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, has written to Harry T. Skelly, county roads department supervisor that an embankment at the intersection of Cash Valley Road and State Route 36 should be removed to provide better sight distances for motorists.

Bushby inquired if the county would participate in the cost, which is estimated at $1,200, so that the work could be done as soon as possible.

Skelly reported on the matter at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and was instructed to discuss the plan with Bushby.

Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon said that the work should be done as soon as possible as it is a traffic hazard. The speed limit on Route 36 in the area is 50 miles an hour, he said, and removal of the embankment would help prevent accidents at the intersection.

Skelly said that the embankment limits the sight of motorists at the intersection to about 300 feet and its removal would extend the sight distance to 3,000 feet.

South, declarer in today's hand, gave a convincing demonstration of the shell game at its best. In the process he effected the disappearance of one of the adverse trump tricks, and brought in his ambitious game contract in spades.

West opened the deuce of hearts and East's jack forced out the ace. Prospects for declarer were indeed bleak, for he was faced with the loss of two trump tricks and one each in hearts and diamonds. A discard was available on dummy's long club but, with the heart ace dislodged and the adverse trumps still outstanding, South appeared to be utterly at the mercy of his opponents.

One vague chance suggested itself and that was to cross over to the dummy and lead the spade jack in the hope of crashing the adverse honors, if East started with the king and one spade and could be induced to cover an honor. However, East's actions in the bidding convinced South that this opponent was more apt to have the ace of spades, and declarer decided to rest his hopes on a legitimate prospect that hinged on finding an even division in clubs and split spade honors.

After taking the heart opening, South played the ace, king and another club and sighed a breath of relief when all hands followed. Next came a fourth round of clubs, and the defense was helpless when declarer sluffed his small heart. If East trumped, it would be with a natural spade trick, and the defense would be limited to another spade and a diamond.

If West were permitted to ruff the fourth club, the result would be the same, for a trump lead would now bump both honors and the ace of diamonds could do no more than complete the defensive book.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I want to be fair so I will start off by saying I've had many male teachers and most of them were gentlemen. But this male teacher I am writing about is a problem, not only to me but to other girls.

This teacher is the only one in the school who teaches a specialized subject and there's no way to avoid him. Bluntly, he can't seem to keep his hands off the girls. When I ask him a question he puts his head close to mine and whispers into my ear. Sometimes he adjusts my beads or flattens my collar or straightens my hairbow.

Yesterday he put his hands around my shoulders when he talked to me and I almost died of embarrassment. This was in front of the whole class.

He does the same thing to many girls so it isn't just me. So far as I know he never goes any further than just pawing, but it makes me uncomfortable and I don't know how to handle it. Can you help?
—JUNIOR MISS

DEAR MISS: More often than not, pawers, touchers, and nudgers are unaware they have the habit. The best cure is to gently but firmly remove the pawer's hands from your shoulders, beads, collar or what have you.

Make a point of what you are doing. He will become aware that this habit is annoying to you and can then set out to overcome it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm considering marrying Linda whom I've been dating for two years. The only thing standing in the way is a problem which may have no significance but it's gnawing at me and raising doubts.

Linda frequently calls me Chuck which is not my name. Chuck is a fellow we are both acquainted with, but so far I know she has never gone out with him and there is nothing between them.

Linda seems normal in every other way and can remember everybody else's name. Why can't she remember mine? Only yesterday she phoned her mother in my presence and told her that Chuck would bring her home about 11 o'clock.

Can this mean that Linda has Chuck on her mind and that I'm a fool to consider her for a wife?
—NOT CHUCK

DEAR NOT: People often misspeak themselves.

Every mother alive has called one of her children by another child's name. In fact some mothers go through three or four names before they hit the right one. The next time Linda calls you Chuck—say, "Yes, Ophelia."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from the grandfather who was disgusted because he received a birthday gift with a card which said, "With love from Bonnie, Don, Mac, Sue, Hal, Mary, Gerry, Debbie—etc." was wonderful.

I'm a grandfather, too, and like the man who wrote, I select gifts for my family with loving care. Yet, year after year, my children send me things which show so little thought I'd prefer no gift at all.

For Christmas my daughter sent me a leather belt which is six inches too small. My son sent a heavy wool shirt, the kind men in Michigan wear for hunting. I live in Miami and have no use for such a shirt. Another daughter sent cuff links. I don't own one shirt with French cuffs.

My 11-year-old grandson sent me a cake of soap, which was the only gift I could use. Strangely enough, his mother wrote and apologized for the gift, thinking I might be offended.

Please tell people, Ann, that sending a gift just to take care of an obligation is no compliment. And the receiver can always tell.

3 Companies Fight Fire In Eckhart Home

FROSTBURG —Three volunteer fire companies yesterday afternoon fought a blaze which caused extensive property damage in a two-story frame dwelling occupied by the Ronald Brode family in Eckhart.

The volunteers confined the flames to an upstairs storage room and section of the attic of the 10-room home although three bedrooms and bathroom and furnishings were scorched by the intense heat.

Firefighters from Frostburg, Clarysville and Shaft responded to the fire which was reported by Mrs. Brode about 12:45 p. m. The family had no insurance on the furniture although William Michaels, owner of the property, had partial insurance.

Mrs. Brode said she and two of her children, Michael 5 and Pattie, four, were in the home and she went upstairs about noon and went into the spare room. She returned downstairs and later detected the smell of smoke.

When she went to the second floor she saw smoke and flames in the storage room and attempted to extinguish the fire.

She ran next door to the home of Mr. Michaels and summoned the firefighters. The storage room which was also used to hang up wash during inclement weather was gutted by the fire. Nearby bedrooms and a bathroom were scorched by the intense heat.

Mr. Brode was at work at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and was summoned home. A third child, Ricky, was in school at the time.

3 Companies Fight Fire In Eckhart Home

FROSTBURG —Three volunteer fire companies yesterday afternoon fought a blaze which caused extensive property damage in a two-story frame dwelling occupied by the Ronald Brode family in Eckhart.

The volunteers confined the flames to an upstairs storage room and section of the attic of the 10-room home although three bedrooms and bathroom and furnishings were scorched by the intense heat.

Firefighters from Frostburg, Clarysville and Shaft responded to the fire which was reported by Mrs. Brode about 12:45 p. m. The family had no insurance on the furniture although William Michaels, owner of the property, had partial insurance.

Mrs. Brode said she and two of her children, Michael 5 and Pattie, four, were in the home and she went upstairs about noon and went into the spare room. She returned downstairs and later detected the smell of smoke.

When she went to the second floor she saw smoke and flames in the storage room and attempted to extinguish the fire.

She ran next door to the home of Mr. Michaels and summoned the firefighters. The storage room which was also used to hang up wash during inclement weather was gutted by the fire. Nearby bedrooms and a bathroom were scorched by the intense heat.

Mr. Brode was at work at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and was summoned home. A third child, Ricky, was in school at the time.

Firemen moved the downstairs furniture to the center of the rooms and covered it with canvass and saved it from water damage.

Miss Barbara Lou Malone, daughter of Kenneth Malone, member of the Potomac State faculty, won a red ribbon at the West Virginia State 4-H Wool contest last year for a wool outfit she made and is modeling in the picture.

In observing National 4-H Week, Miss Malone said all modern-day girls should possess at least a slight knowledge of the art of sewing.

She learned basic principles such as color combinations, use of machine and various stitches and acquired skill in making outfits of wool, silk and other materials upon completion of the more advanced projects.

She remarked that "I am able to save money by making and repairing many of my own clothes and accessories," . . . and "I have obtained knowledge of modern ideas and trends, and short cuts that make my sewing easier and more enjoyable."

Ask Legislature To 'Go Slow' On RR Merger

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Legislature was urged Tuesday to go slow on opposing a proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads.

A spokesman for the Maryland Port Authority expressed hope that the two lines may yet agree to a stock arrangement whereby interests of the Western Maryland Railroad may be protected.

And if so, he said, the merger could prove beneficial to the state's economy through formation of a healthier railroad.

The New York Central's ownership of a feeder line into the Western Maryland — Pittsburgh and Lake Erie—was the main cause of concern expressed at a hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Disrupt Local Economy

The committee has under consideration a joint resolution sponsored by Del. Joseph H. McElwee, D-Washington, asking that the legislature go on record opposing the merger.

Spokesmen for railroad labor unions, supporting the resolution, argued that the merger could put the Western Maryland Railway out of business and disrupt economies in Cumberland, Hagerstown, Brunswick and other communities.

They said the line is dependent on the P.L.E. for $3 million in freight business to the Port of Baltimore. Fear was expressed that the Pennsylvania Railroad, once merger is completed, will attempt to divert much of this traffic over its own lines through Pennsylvania to the port in Philadelphia.

John D. Morris, director of special services for the PRR, called these fears groundless. He said the line would not agree to divest NYC stock in the Pittsburgh Lake Erie under the merger but told legislators it would mean no loss of business or abandonment of any facilities in Maryland.

Cites Dangers

William L. Marbury, general counsel for the Maryland Port Authority, said the ownership of the feeder line presents a "very disturbing element" to a merger the authority otherwise favors. But he said negotiations have recently reopened on getting an agreement from the railroads to place the stock under trusteeship. If this isn't done, Marbury added, the state will fight for such a requirement by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a condition for merger.

Marbury and representatives of the Baltimore City Chamber of Commerce said it would tie their hands before the I.C.C. to have the legislature on record in opposition to the merger.

McElwee said his resolution might not be perfect but he still felt the legislature ought to go on record recognizing the inherent dangers in the merger and calling public attention to them.

Kiwanis Club To Hear PE Representatives

Two representatives of the Potomac Edison Company will be the guest speakers at the weekly meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club tomorrow at noon at Central YMCA.

Police Battalion To Be Retained

The office of U.S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall was notified yesterday that Company B, 336th Police Battalion, will remain at Lonaconing.

A letter from Maj. Gen. Frederick M. Warren, chief of the Army Reserve, said that after further review, the decision had been made to retain the unit in Allegany County.

Under the reorganization plan announced sometime ago by the Defense Department, the unit was to have been moved to Lewes, Del., and its 80 members transferred to an ordinance unit here for a year.

The proposed move set off a wave of protest in all levels of community life throughout the county and many letters and resolutions opposing it have been forwarded to Sen. Beall and Reserve officials.

Word of the action was sent to Louis V. Shinnamon, president of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, yesterday afternoon by Carlton R. Sickles, D-congressman at large.

Rep. Sickles said he has been informed by the Army Department that Company B, 336th Military Police Battalion will remain in Lonaconing.

In addition to leading each church, which he has served, in an expansion in membership and financial stewardship, Rev. Mr. Morrow has participated in the fund raising activities of the community agencies where he has served.

White Is Named To Zoning Board

Harry White, 916 Center Street, LaVale, yesterday was named to the LaVale Zoning Board by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

White succeeds Thomas Burton, who resigned recently due to press of other duties. The new zoning board member is a native of Grafton, W. Va. and is an accountant at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company.

74 Donate Blood At Piedmont

Seventy four pints of blood were donated yesterday afternoon when the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown visited the Presbyterian Church in Piedmont. The quota was 90 pints.

Mrs. Carleton Bell, chairman of blood recruitment, said Melvin Foley of Westernport became a member of the four-gallon club.

Carl Whisner, also of Westernport, joined the three-gallon club, according to the chairman, who said Mrs. Roberta Green and Harold Hamilton, both of Piedmont, and Lacy B. Tinsley of Westernport became members of the two-gallon club.

New members of the one-gallon club include Emil DiUbaldo of Luke, Mrs. Bertha Hackett and Donald Van Pelt, both of Westernport, Robert Bateson of Piedmont and Carl McMillan of New Creek, W. Va.

One hundred sixty nine persons were scheduled to give blood yesterday althorgh many of them failed to show up. There were 16 walk-ins, eight rejects and six replacements.

3,698 Sets Of Tags Sold At Court House

Sale of new Maryland automobile license tags at the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff continued at a brisk pace yesterday as some 632 sets were sold.

That brings the sale in seven working days to 3,698 sets. The office at the Court House is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The county commissioners also have ordered the office to remain open from 8:30 a.m. until noon on the final three Saturdays in March—March 16, 23 and 30. It will not be open this Saturday.

Car owners are requested to sign their applications in the required places before coming to the windows at the Court House to expedite the sale of tags.

Boy Scouts Plan First Aid Meet

Saturday is the deadline for entries in the First Aid Meet sponsored by Potomac Council Boy Scouts of America for troops of the Nemacolin Trail District.

The meet will be held March 16 at 1 p.m. at the Eagles Club, North Mechanic Street. The problems will involve artificial respiration, first aid for injured limbs, stretcher transfer of accident victims, extinguishing of clothing fire and subsequent treatment for second and third degree burns.

All participants are required to be in uniform and must supply the necessary equipment. Judging and points will be awarded on the basis of instructions set forth in the Boy Scouts first aid merit badge series handbook.

Further details may be obtained by calling the Scout Office, PA 2-7700.

Commissioners Congratulate Cage Winners

Yesterday they instructed James G. Stevenson, their clerk, to write three congratulatory letters. They are to be sent to Allegany High School, Mt. Savage High School and Frostburg State Teachers College.

Allegany won the district Class A title and Mt. Savage Class B honors last week in the tournament at Hagerstown. Frostburg State Teachers College, which won 17 of 20 games in the regular season, participated in the NAIA District 31 tournament last night in Trenton, N. J.

Class Starts March 12

A Red Cross advanced first aid class will be held at Allegany Labor Temple, South Liberty Street, beginning March 12 at 7:30 p.m. George Brown will instruct the course.

Holders of Red Cross standard first aid cards are eligible to enter the class. Further information can be obtained by calling Allegany County Chapter office, PA 2-1760.

Water Use Normal

Dropping 'Reforms' That Won't Work

President Kennedy told the American Bankers Association that he will do "whatever is necessary" to get a three-year tax cut totaling at least $10 billion. He will even accept from Congress a bill minus any tax reforms of the kind he asked for in the proposal he sent to Capitol Hill this year.

In fact, he indicated that if a bill providing $13.5 billion in tax cuts and shorn of any revision other than rate changes should reach him, he will sign that. Rather than have a cut he considers too small to do the job he has in mind, he would take one he considers too big.

This stand at least clarifies the issue that has been placed before Congress by the administration. For the first time the President has advocated a tax cut as a means of stimulating the economy—not merely removing certain distortions in the tax structure that act as brakes on growth. He believes there is no need to fear the deficits resulting from such a cut.

That is putting it far too gently. Mr. Kennedy made it clearer than ever that what he is after is a series of planned deficits. His only concern is that they be big enough to give the economy a strong enough push to get it rolling. He has clearly indicated that the essence of the whole program is a dose of pump-priming. Revamping the tax structure is of less significance and can be deferred.

The so-called tax "reforms" the President proposed have already had enough of an airing so that there will be few long faces because the President is not going to insist on them. Many of the changes he sought would make the tax burden fall less equitably and would have unfortunate side effects. It doesn't seem likely that they would create jobs or increase investment in new plants.

All the same, the tax cut revealed as an exercise in pump-priming looks even 'more dubious than it did before the President spoke to the bankers. Pump-priming got a thorough trial back in the 1930s. Planned deficits didn't work then and there's no convincing reason to believe that they would work now.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Dream-Stuff

MIAMI — President Kennedy spends his Winter vacation periods at Palm Beach, obviously worrying between bouts of sunshine about the roadblocks which his opponents are setting up to forestall his New Frontier program. Perhaps he should devote some of his time to the not-so-very-far-away Hialeah Race Track. It would make him far more hopeful for some of his pet bills.

Hialeah is a fascinating experience, and harmless enough if you don't let it push you off your financial rocker. To watch the horses run on green turf against an exotic background that consists of an island-studded lake is a memory to be treasured. In the spirit of the seventh inning stretch a couple of Seminole Indians stir a crowd of lazy pink flamingos into startled flight from one of the islands in the lake along toward the end of a racing afternoon. This alone, to a neophyte of race going, is worth the price of admission.

But it is the people at Hialeah who are the real revelation. They don't look at each other. The sight of hundreds wandering back and forth between their trackside seats and the pari-mutuel betting windows is proof of a real "lonely crowd." The eyes of the man who bumps into you are abstracted, looking entirely inward as abstruse calculations are made on the clicking abacus that is the race-track goer's brain. This man and his eyes, when multiplied by thousands, make for abstraction en masse. It is something which Walt Whitman, the poet of the mass, knew nothing about.

Hialeah has many lures. It can provide a tingling sport for those who love sport. It can provide a day of carnival, for, besides horses and flamingos, there are other animal exhibits at the park. But the big lure for many people is the lure of something for nothing—or, rather, the lure of something like a thirty-to-one long shot win on a little old two dollar bet.

The spectacle of so many people living in a dream of raking in the dollars without working for them is depressing to a conservative, but it should be a tonic to true believers in the New Frontier. For the appeal of the easy dollar is so unquenchable that it must be only a question of time before every New Frontier bill in Kennedy's arsenal is passed. The educationists will get their flossy new laboratories and dormitories and school buildings, all at the expense of Washington. Medicare is a practical cinch. Easy jobs for youths cleaning up litter in the forests will be provided by the federal government, despite the lesson of the past which shows that automation always creates more jobs in the end than it destroys. Everyone who can join a big enough pressure group will get his sizeable bit from the government. Or so it must seem to a depressed conservative as the light wanes in the late afternoon at Hialeah.

Bill Veeck (as in "Wreck"), the baseball man who made history by sending a midget to bat to get a crucial base on balls when he owned a big-time team, recently came up with a proposal to let government-sponsored pari-mutuel betting or a State-owned lottery pay the bills for things like Medicare. He was promptly sat upon by people who objected to the immorality of the proposition. It would be wrong, so Veeck's critics said, to have the State encourage gambling.

Well, as a Puritan (ah, there, Dr. Heller), I certainly don't favor any extra fostering of the something-for-nothing spirit. But Veeck's proposal is not to be dismissed out of hand even by us Puritans. The truth is that government, even without a lottery, is already dedicated to what amounts to an all-out crusade to promote the something-for-nothing philosophy. It is the working Puritans in our society who must pay the bills for all the dream-stuff programs that emanate from Washington. So the immoralists live off the moralists, which is not exactly a moral situation.

The injustice of this ought to be apparent to anybody who thinks very long about it. So why not let the immoralists take in each other's washing? Why not let one set of dream-stuff people pay for the political give-aways that go to another set? A lottery is just the thing to finance the sure-thing addicts who insist on living off federal largesse. And the Puritans among us would be freed to go on working without that feeling that the only reward for that last ounce of labor is excessive taxation.

Massachusetts VIPs, Lobbyist Make Unusual Call On McNamara

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It's not supposed to be publicized, but one of the most imposing arrays of political strength ever to call on the Secretary of Defense dropped in to see Robert McNamara the other day to get him to continue a high-priced contract for the manufacture of the M-14 rifle at Worcester, Mass.

The delegation, which illustrates how politics can get mixed up with defense, was composed of the following:

Sen. Teddy Kennedy of Massachusetts, the President's brother.

Rep. John McCormack of Boston, speaker of the House of Representatives, also a Democrat.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, also of Massachusetts, who is No. 1 Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee and No. 1 Republican on the Senate Appropriations Sub-Committee which votes the money for armed services.

This combination of the President's brother, the No. 1 man in the House and the No. 1 Republican of the Senate as far as military policy and military appropriations are concerned, should have been enough to make an average secretary of defense turn handsprings.

Along with this delegation was another interesting gentleman, Charles W. Colson, lobbyist for the Harrington and Richardson Arms Company of Worcester, the firm which wanted to continue the M-14 contract.

It is highly unusual for a lobbyist to accompany U. S. Senators to call on any cabinet member. It just isn't done. However, Colson occupies an unusual position. For several years he served as administrative assistant to Sen. Saltonstall and also as secretary of the New England Senators Conference, a regional group of Democratic and Republican Senators who meet to discuss the problems of New England.

In 1960, Colson stepped down as Saltonstall's assistant to become a lawyer-lobbyist, but continued in the highly unusual position of secretary of the New England Senators. In other words he was able to sit in on Senate conferences at the same time he was promoting the business interests of his clients before the Senate. For doing something similar to this—letting a representative of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association attend meetings of a Senate Finance Committee—Sen. Hiram Bingham, R. Conn., was officially censured by the Senate.

Colson finally stepped down from his inside post as secretary of the New England Senators Conference on Jan. 23, 1963 but on Jan. 25, two days later, assumed another inside role, when he accompanied both Senators and the speaker to see Secretary McNamara.

McNamara, faced with this imposing array of political muscle, was polite but adamant. He refused to continue the Harrington and Richardson M-14 contract.

He explained that the Army already had 1,000,000 extra M-14's and was expecting to transfer to the AR-15. Furthermore the Worcester firm's costs were about $17 per rifle higher than those of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge. The latter firm was producing 219,691 rifles for $17,465,000 while Harrington-Richardson was producing 75,000 rifles for $7,320,000. The other firm making the M-14 is Olin Mathieson which is manufacturing 150,000 rifles for $15,675,000. All were negotiated, not bid contracts.

Yo-Yo Treatment

However, the Secretary of Defense was sympathetic to the plight of Worcester with so many men being laid off with the expiration of the M-14.

"We've been treating you like a yo-yo," he said, and went on to explain that he had looked up the contracts given to Harrington and Richardson and that ever since the Korean War they had jumped up and down like a yo-yo top.

"We'll send a team of experts up to Worcester to see what they can produce efficiently that might be in the defense picture," he promised, and went on to explain that he had worked with Presque Isle, Maine, when it was about to lose the Snark contract, and was working with Wichita, Kans., to take up the employment lag with the ending of its Boeing bomber contracts.

He said the defense department could not sign uneconomic and expensive contracts, but it could give longer notice when a contract was to be cancelled so the local community could prepare for the blow, and it could also look around to see what else could be manufactured in a community.

Shortly thereafter, eight production men from the Army, Navy and Air Force, went to Worcester. Their recommendations are not yet in.

Aside from this, the two Senators and speaker from Massachusetts went away empty-handed. They were inclined to think that Secretary McNamara, in one hour and twenty minutes of discussion, had been quite fair, and they in turn refrained from any demands or ultimatums.

Multilateral Deterrent Value Psychological

By Joseph Alsop

ROME.

After making his first presentation to the NATO Council, Special Ambassador Livingston Merchant has come to Rome to explain (or perhaps one should say peddle) the multilateral nuclear deterrent.

Even before the discussions have begun, it is possible to predict the local outcome of the Merchant mission with considerable confidence. The President's Special Ambassador will get a warm welcome, a reaffirmation of the approval "in principle" of the multilateral force that Prime Minister Fanfani gave the President in Washington — but no final commitment.

There are at least three reasons why the present Italian government is unlikely to make a final commitment to Merchant. The first is the oncoming national election. No one in authority wants the practical problems raised by the multilateral deterrent scheme to become electoral issues.

The second reason is the main practical problem involved in this scheme. The Pentagon has reduced the estimated cost of the multilateral deterrent by the simple expedient of deciding that surface ships will do quite well enough as platforms for these particular polaris missiles. Nonetheless, the cost will be heavy — in the neighborhood of two-and-a-half billion dollars, reportedly.

With the U. S. footing 40 per cent of the bill, that leaves a billion and a half dollars to be put up by the Europeans, which will mainly mean the Germans and Italians if the multilateral deterrent ever becomes a reality.

The Italian Defense Ministry is already hard put to pay for the modernization of its NATO division. Finding another hundred million or so a year to pay for the multilateral deterrent will be far from easy. In the end, it may even prove to be impossible.

As for the third reason for the unlikelihood of an immediate Italian commitment, it is, so to say, rooted in the nature of the beast. From Prime Minister Fanfani down, the chief personages in the Italian government are sincerely pleased by the Presidential offer that Merchant has come here to spell out. But they are not only worried about the bill; they are also mainly pleased by the offer for "psychological" reasons.

The fact that the multilateral deterrent's value is mainly psychological, at least at present, needs to be squarely faced. It will not mean, to begin with, that the Italians and Germans will acquire nuclear weapons for the first time. Both countries already have nuclear weapons.

In the four "Honest John" battalions in the Italian army, the total kilotonnage of the warheads is certainly several times as great as the kilotonnage of the warheads as yet available to Gen. de Gaulle's embryo nuclear striking force. The total kilotonnage of the warheads integrated into the German armed forces is not less than 20 times and perhaps as much as 30 times, the current French total.

Each of these warheads now in German and Italian hands of course has its attendant American sergeant or corporal; and all of them are equipped with the electronic lock, to which Washington holds the key. But the fact remains that the Germans can use their nuclear arms if only two men, President Kennedy and Chancellor Adenauer, agree on the need, and the Italians can do the same if there is agreement between the President and Prime Minister Fanfani.

In the case of the multilateral deterrent, in contrast, the nuclear arms which are to be allocated to it will not be usable without the unanimous agreement of the five or six or eight or ten representatives of contributing nations on the Board of Control. As now planned, this force will not merely have a built-in American veto. It will have a lot of other built-in vetoes as well.

The psychological gain of course lies in putting the Germans, Italians, and others who may join the scheme into the strategic nuclear business, which has more prestige than the tactical nuclear business symbolized by those Italian "Honest Johns." For the Italians, who have a healthy fear of strategic nuclear weapons in German hands, there is the additional advantage of seeming to satisfy German claims without undue risk because of all those built-in vetoes.

But the question clearly remains whether European enthusiasm can be sustained for this project which will cost a lot, which will not add significantly to the military power of the Western Alliance, and which will be mainly valuable for strictly psychological reasons.

Maybe the picture will be altered if it is later transformed into a truly European deterrent by the removal of the American veto. But if European enthusiasm is not sustained, one must pray we shall not again make the mistake we made with the medium range ballistic missiles. When we first offered the latter, it was supposed to be a favor to our allies. In the end, accepting the MRBMs became a favor to the United States.

KEEPING FIT — The flurry of publicity over physical fitness has been a great joke in Washington and throughout the nation, but it has also deeply concerned some of the more thoughtful members of the Kennedy administration.

Medical experts have stressed, obviously under the prompting of these concerned officials, that 50-mile hikes are for those whose outdoor regimen has put them in shape for such exertion. Certainly, a 50-mile walk at a brisk clip is not for the middle-aged desk-sitter.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger's humorous proposal to make one of those marches with any newsmen who cared to accompany him snowballed to the point where it appeared that he'd actually have to do it.

This would have caused uncounted reporters and cameramen to go along, lightheartedly, we suppose, but in the line of duty as well, because it surely would have produced a news feature story.

When that likelihood became apparent, Salinger judiciously decided to call the whole thing off. aging White House press corps aging Whie House press corps wasn't up to that degree of exertion, and that some casualties certainly would have occurred.

The new physical fitness slogan on the New Frontier is: "Leave it to the Marines — or the kids." Incidentally, Senate GOP leader Everett Dirksen has his own slogan. He wears it on one of those lapel-type political buttons and it reads "I Like Hike."

HEADS, NOT FEET — The International Peace Corps Secretariat has its own answer to the physical fitness craze — mental fitness! Members of the Secretariat gather daily in Secretary Gen. Richard Goodwin's office where they study Spanish via an educational TV show.

Goodwin says his staff stands ready to match wits with any other department of government that wants to field a Spanish-studying team. At the end of the course, they offer to take a competitive examination on the language to determine which group learned most and best.

"Our answer to the 50-mile hike is the 50-week course," Goodwin declared. He figures his staff has better heads than feet.

Oxygen Therapy New Technique For Strokes

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Oxygen is a modern miracle maker. A new technic of inhaling oxygen while sitting in a pressure chamber may revolutionize the treatment of stroke and gangrene from poor circulation. A larger amount of the dissolved gas finds its way into the blood stream and tissues when the atmospheric pressure is doubled, as is possible in a chamber of this type.

Obstruction in a blood vessel of a leg decreases the amount of oxygen to the tissues, which may lead to gangrene of the foot. When circulation to the brain is cut off by a clot in one of the arteries of the neck and head (stroke) the tissues suffer from oxygen deficiency. It may be possible in the future to spare these bloodless tissues by sitting or lying in a pressurized chamber that contains 100 per cent oxygen.

The effects of a pressure chamber of this kind on victims of coronary thrombosis are being studied. Marked benefit has been noted in those with carbon monoxide poisoning. In this condition, carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the blood and death occurs unless the situation is reversed. A pressure chamber containing 100 per cent oxygen is made to order for treating this emergency. In the circumstances, oxygen is forced into the blood to replace carbon monoxide.

The drawback is that the chamber is costly and must be large enough to accommodate many persons, to be of practical value. The administration of oxygen in this way differs from the usual method of sitting in bed in an ordinary room with a mask over the face or a tube in the nose.

The oxygen tent is an alternate method and has the advantage of being air conditioned. Also available are portable devices for the physician's car, the ambulance, and for those who need oxygen when walking. The latter plan is used by those with emphysema; they carry a 2-pound tank attached to a mask that allows them to exert without undue shortness of breath.

ITCHING BUMPS

M. T. writes: What is Fox disease and is there a cure?

REPLY

I assume you refer to Fox-Fordyce disease, in which tiny bumps appear in the armpits. The most distinguishing feature of this condition is the itching that develops as a result of emotional stimuli (anger, fear, and other forms of excitement), which may be so annoying the victim has an uncontrolable desire to scratch. This is a rare disorder—fortunately, because it is hard to cure.

TRAPPED HERNIA

R. S. writes: What is an incarcerated hernia?

REPLY

The most common hernia contains a sac filled with a loop of intestine that bulges through an opening in the lower abdomen. Now and then the opening is small and the protruding sac is trapped (incarcerated) and cannot be forced back into the obdomen.

GRANULATED LIDS

J. B. writes: What is the cause of granulated eyelids and what treatment is ordinarily prescribed?

REPLY

Trachoma is the most common cause. This eye disease is highly contagious and at one time was a frequent cause of blindness. It is now curable and is rare in this country.

LAXATIVE DAMAGE

J. D. W. writes: If a child eats a box of laxative pills, will this damage his brain?

REPLY

The brain? There are dozens of different laxatives and, to answer this question, the ingredients must be known.

TOMORROW: Aspects of depression.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

SEATTLE, Washington—The fog moved in slowly from Puget Sound. It was an insidious veil hanging 700 feet above the streets, leaving the tops of the Olympic Mountains and the Cascades exposed like half-melted balls of vanilla ice cream in a bowl. United's Flight 833 whistled above it like a silver and blue dragon fly, and then headed down.

The captain asked for an Instrument Landing System approach, and then asked the airport how their ILS was working. He was an old-timer with gray hair and tic-tac-toe wrinkles in the back of his neck. He could have flown down to San Francisco, or back to Salt Lake City, but he brought the 720 down through the soft ice cream the moment he was assured that there was no other traffic in his area.

At 700 feet, the plane came out underneath and he brought the big jet over the strobe lights at the end of the runway as though he did this every day. Over a hundred passengers got off at the terminal. Kelly and I had never been to Seattle before, so we took a taxi into town. It turned out to be 14 miles.

The cab driver was a lady, and I couldn't permit her to toss the bags into the trunk. So I did it. "First time in Seattle?" she said. We said yes. She kept her eyes on the road and nodded. "You'll like it," she said. "A real friendly place." We drove on in silence.

"We're building a new freeway," she said. I expressed polite interest. She said it would go smack through the middle of Seattle. "Costs $23,000,000 a mile," she said. "They had to condemn a lot of buildings, you know." Interesting, I said. "They say we have 561,000 population here," she said, "but they're off their rockers. We have 600,000 in the city and another hundred thousand in the suburbs. This is a big place."

She was a real civic booster; a real talker — not always accurate, but more woman than taxi driver. She asked where we were staying. "At the Downtown Athletic Club," I said, "wherever that is." The lady nodded. "Good place. Fifteen floors." I said that we had room 2006. "Ha!" she said. "Somebody made a mistake. I've been here all my life and it never had more than 15 stories."

Kelly asked her about newspapers. "We have two," she said. "I read the P.I." I asked what P.I. meant. "Post Intelligencer," she said. "Everybody knows that." This column is published in the P.I., among other newspapers, but we didn't tell her that.

"Do they have many columnists?" Kelly said. The lady pulled up to a stop light. Near it was an arrow pointing north to Vancouver, and another pointing south to Portland. "Oh yes," she said. She began to tick off the names. She mentioned six or eight. Mine was not among them. Mrs. B stuck her tongue out at me.

"Is there someone named Jim Bishop writing for the paper?" Kelly said. The driver pulled ahead on the green light, passed a part of the big Boeing plant, and said: "Oh yes. Do you know him?" She said she had read some of his stories.

"Then," the cab driver said, "you must read the P.I. because he's local, you see." Kelly said "Oh?" The driver said that Bishop was a Seattle boy. She didn't know him, but she knew his family pretty well. They live out on the shores of Lake Washington. "Nice people," she said. "But his stories are a little too simple for me."

I asked how far it might be to the 15-story hotel where we had a room on the 20th floor. "Down this hill," she said. "While you're here, you should have lunch up in the Space Needle. It's the biggest thing west of the Mississippi." I restrained an impulse to tell her that she was the biggest thing on either side of the Mississippi.

When we reached the hotel, I permitted her to take the suitcases out of the trunk. Here again, she had to make me look bad. She lifted them out two at a time.

In the lobby, we found that the Downtown Athletic Club had added five stories. "Okay local boy," Kelly said. "Lead the way." In the room, we could see much of the city which sits in the northwest corner of the United States, at the bottom of an artichoke of beautiful mountains.

"Did you tip the lady?" Kelly said. Sure, I did. "How much was the bill?" she said. "Five dollars and ninety cents," I said. "So," she said. "What did the last of the great spenders give his fan? Six dollars?" I shrugged. "What else?" I said . . .

Dropping 'Reforms' That Won't Work

President Kennedy told the American Bankers Association that he will do "whatever is necessary" to get a three-year tax cut totaling at least $10 billion. He will even accept from Congress a bill minus any tax reforms of the kind he asked for in the proposal he sent to Capitol Hill this year.

In fact, he indicated that if a bill providing $13.5 billion in tax cuts and shorn of any revision other than rate changes should reach him, he will sign that. Rather than have a cut he considers too small to do the job he has in mind, he would take one he considers too big.

This stand at least clarifies the issue that has been placed before Congress by the administration. For the first time the President has advocated a tax cut as a means of stimulating the economy—not merely removing certain distortions in the tax structure that act as brakes on growth. He believes there is no need to fear the deficits resulting from such a cut.

That is putting it far too gently. Mr. Kennedy made it clearer than ever that what he is after is a series of planned deficits. His only concern is that they be big enough to give the economy a strong enough push to get it rolling. He has clearly indicated that the essence of the whole program is a dose of pump-priming. Revamping the tax structure is of less significance and can be deferred.

The so-called tax "reforms" the President proposed have already had enough of an airing so that there will be few long faces because the President is not going to insist on them. Many of the changes he sought would make the tax burden fall less equitably and would have unfortunate side effects. It doesn't seem likely that they would create jobs or increase investment in new plants.

All the same, the tax cut revealed as an exercise in pump-priming looks even 'more dubious than it did before the President spoke to the bankers. Pump-priming got a thorough trial back in the 1930s. Planned deficits didn't work then and there's no convincing reason to believe that they would work now.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Dream-Stuff

MIAMI — President Kennedy spends his Winter vacation periods at Palm Beach, obviously worrying between bouts of sunshine about the roadblocks which his opponents are setting up to forestall his New Frontier program. Perhaps he should devote some of his time to the not-so-very-far-away Hialeah Race Track. It would make him far more hopeful for some of his pet bills.

Hialeah is a fascinating experience, and harmless enough if you don't let it push you off your financial rocker. To watch the horses run on green turf against an exotic background that consists of an island-studded lake is a memory to be treasured. In the spirit of the seventh inning stretch a couple of Seminole Indians stir a crowd of lazy pink flamingos into startled flight from one of the islands in the lake along toward the end of a racing afternoon. This alone, to a neophyte of race going, is worth the price of admission.

But it is the people at Hialeah who are the real revelation. They don't look at each other. The sight of hundreds wandering back and forth between their trackside seats and the pari-mutuel betting windows is proof of a real "lonely crowd." The eyes of the man who bumps into you are abstracted, looking entirely inward as abstruse calculations are made on the clicking abacus that is the race-track goer's brain. This man and his eyes, when multiplied by thousands, make for abstraction en masse. It is something which Walt Whitman, the poet of the mass, knew nothing about.

Hialeah has many lures. It can provide a tingling sport for those who love sport. It can provide a day of carnival, for, besides horses and flamingos, there are other animal exhibits at the park. But the big lure for many people is the lure of something for nothing—or, rather, the lure of something like a thirty-to-one long shot win on a little old two dollar bet.

The spectacle of so many people living in a dream of raking in the dollars without working for them is depressing to a conservative, but it should be a tonic to true believers in the New Frontier. For the appeal of the easy dollar is so unquenchable that it must be only a question of time before every New Frontier bill in Kennedy's arsenal is passed. The educationists will get their flossy new laboratories and dormitories and school buildings, all at the expense of Washington. Medicare is a practical cinch. Easy jobs for youths cleaning up litter in the forests will be provided by the federal government, despite the lesson of the past which shows that automation always creates more jobs in the end than it destroys. Everyone who can join a big enough pressure group will get his sizeable bit from the government. Or so it must seem to a depressed conservative as the light wanes in the late afternoon at Hialeah.

Bill Veeck (as in "Wreck"), the baseball man who made history by sending a midget to bat to get a crucial base on balls when he owned a big-time team, recently came up with a proposal to let government-sponsored pari-mutuel betting or a State-owned lottery pay the bills for things like Medicare. He was promptly sat upon by people who objected to the immorality of the proposition. It would be wrong, so Veeck's critics said, to have the State encourage gambling.

Well, as a Puritan (ah, there, Dr. Heller), I certainly don't favor any extra fostering of the something-for-nothing spirit. But Veeck's proposal is not to be dismissed out of hand even by us Puritans. The truth is that government, even without a lottery, is already dedicated to what amounts to an all-out crusade to promote the something-for-nothing philosophy. It is the working Puritans in our society who must pay the bills for all the dream-stuff programs that emanate from Washington. So the immoralists live off the moralists, which is not exactly a moral situation.

The injustice of this ought to be apparent to anybody who thinks very long about it. So why not let the immoralists take in each other's washing? Why not let one set of dream-stuff people pay for the political give-aways that go to another set? A lottery is just the thing to finance the sure-thing addicts who insist on living off federal largesse. And the Puritans among us would be freed to go on working without that feeling that the only reward for that last ounce of labor is excessive taxation.

Oxygen Therapy New Technique For Strokes

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Oxygen is a modern miracle maker. A new technic of inhaling oxygen while sitting in a pressure chamber may revolutionize the treatment of stroke and gangrene from poor circulation. A larger amount of the dissolved gas finds its way into the blood stream and tissues when the atmospheric pressure is doubled, as is possible in a chamber of this type.

Obstruction in a blood vessel of a leg decreases the amount of oxygen to the tissues, which may lead to gangrene of the foot. When circulation to the brain is cut off by a clot in one of the arteries of the neck and head (stroke) the tissues suffer from oxygen deficiency. It may be possible in the future to spare these bloodless tissues by sitting or lying in a pressurized chamber that contains 100 per cent oxygen.

The effects of a pressure chamber of this kind on victims of coronary thrombosis are being studied. Marked benefit has been noted in those with carbon monoxide poisoning. In this condition, carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the blood and death occurs unless the situation is reversed. A pressure chamber containing 100 per cent oxygen is made to order for treating this emergency. In the circumstances, oxygen is forced into the blood to replace carbon monoxide.

The drawback is that the chamber is costly and must be large enough to accommodate many persons, to be of practical value. The administration of oxygen in this way differs from the usual method of sitting in bed in an ordinary room with a mask over the face or a tube in the nose.

The oxygen tent is an alternate method and has the advantage of being air conditioned. Also available are portable devices for the physician's car, the ambulance, and for those who need oxygen when walking. The latter plan is used by those with emphysema; they carry a 2-pound tank attached to a mask that allows them to exert without undue shortness of breath.

ITCHING BUMPS

M. T. writes: What is Fox disease and is there a cure?

REPLY

I assume you refer to Fox-Fordyce disease, in which tiny bumps appear in the armpits. The most distinguishing feature of this condition is the itching that develops as a result of emotional stimuli (anger, fear, and other forms of excitement), which may be so annoying the victim has an uncontrolable desire to scratch. This is a rare disorder—fortunately, because it is hard to cure.

TRAPPED HERNIA

R. S. writes: What is an incarcerated hernia?

REPLY

The most common hernia contains a sac filled with a loop of intestine that bulges through an opening in the lower abdomen. Now and then the opening is small and the protruding sac is trapped (incarcerated) and cannot be forced back into the obdomen.

GRANULATED LIDS

J. B. writes: What is the cause of granulated eyelids and what treatment is ordinarily prescribed?

REPLY

Trachoma is the most common cause. This eye disease is highly contagious and at one time was a frequent cause of blindness. It is now curable and is rare in this country.

LAXATIVE DAMAGE

J. D. W. writes: If a child eats a box of laxative pills, will this damage his brain?

REPLY

The brain? There are dozens of different laxatives and, to answer this question, the ingredients must be known.

TOMORROW: Aspects of depression.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

The only time I saw the late William Faulkner flare up at a public reception was when a well-meaning hostess sought to add water to a slug of Faulkner's favorite brew. The distinguished author pulled his glass back sharply, and pointed out, "If the good Lord had intended water to be in it, madam, He'd have put it there!"

Massachusetts VIPs, Lobbyist Make Unusual Call On McNamara

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It's not supposed to be publicized, but one of the most imposing arrays of political strength ever to call on the Secretary of Defense dropped in to see Robert McNamara the other day to get him to continue a high-priced contract for the manufacture of the M-14 rifle at Worcester, Mass.

The delegation, which illustrates how politics can get mixed up with defense, was composed of the following:

Sen. Teddy Kennedy of Massachusetts, the President's brother.

Rep. John McCormack of Boston, speaker of the House of Representatives, also a Democrat.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, also of Massachusetts, who is No. 1 Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee and No. 1 Republican on the Senate Appropriations Sub-Committee which votes the money for armed services.

This combination of the President's brother, the No. 1 man in the House and the No. 1 Republican of the Senate as far as military policy and military appropriations are concerned, should have been enough to make an average secretary of defense turn handsprings.

Along with this delegation was another interesting gentleman, Charles W. Colson, lobbyist for the Harrington and Richardson Arms Company of Worcester, the firm which wanted to continue the M-14 contract.

It is highly unusual for a lobbyist to accompany U. S. Senators to call on any cabinet member. It just isn't done. However, Colson occupies an unusual position. For several years he served as administrative assistant to Sen. Saltonstall and also as secretary of the New England Senators Conference, a regional group of Democratic and Republican Senators who meet to discuss the problems of New England.

In 1960, Colson stepped down as Saltonstall's assistant to become a lawyer-lobbyist, but continued in the highly unusual position of secretary of the New England Senators. In other words he was able to sit in on Senate conferences at the same time he was promoting the business interests of his clients before the Senate. For doing something similar to this—letting a representative of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association attend meetings of a Senate Finance Committee—Sen. Hiram Bingham, R. Conn., was officially censured by the Senate.

Colson finally stepped down from his inside post as secretary of the New England Senators Conference on Jan. 23, 1963 but on Jan. 25, two days later, assumed another inside role, when he accompanied both Senators and the speaker to see Secretary McNamara.

McNamara, faced with this imposing array of political muscle, was polite but adamant. He refused to continue the Harrington and Richardson M-14 contract.

He explained that the Army already had 1,000,000 extra M-14's and was expecting to transfer to the AR-15. Furthermore the Worcester firm's costs were about $17 per rifle higher than those of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge. The latter firm was producing 219,691 rifles for $17,465,000 while Harrington-Richardson was producing 75,000 rifles for $7,320,000. The other firm making the M-14 is Olin Mathieson which is manufacturing 150,000 rifles for $15,675,000. All were negotiated, not bid contracts.

Yo-Yo Treatment

However, the Secretary of Defense was sympathetic to the plight of Worcester with so many men being laid off with the expiration of the M-14.

"We've been treating you like a yo-yo," he said, and went on to explain that he had looked up the contracts given to Harrington and Richardson and that ever since the Korean War they had jumped up and down like a yo-yo top.

"We'll send a team of experts up to Worcester to see what they can produce efficiently that might be in the defense picture," he promised, and went on to explain that he had worked with Presque Isle, Maine, when it was about to lose the Snark contract, and was working with Wichita, Kans., to take up the employment lag with the ending of its Boeing bomber contracts.

He said the defense department could not sign uneconomic and expensive contracts, but it could give longer notice when a contract was to be cancelled so the local community could prepare for the blow, and it could also look around to see what else could be manufactured in a community.

Shortly thereafter, eight production men from the Army, Navy and Air Force, went to Worcester. Their recommendations are not yet in.

Aside from this, the two Senators and speaker from Massachusetts went away empty-handed. They were inclined to think that Secretary McNamara, in one hour and twenty minutes of discussion, had been quite fair, and they in turn refrained from any demands or ultimatums.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

SEATTLE, Washington—The fog moved in slowly from Puget Sound. It was an insidious veil hanging 700 feet above the streets, leaving the tops of the Olympic Mountains and the Cascades exposed like half-melted balls of vanilla ice cream in a bowl. United's Flight 833 whistled above it like a silver and blue dragon fly, and then headed down.

The captain asked for an Instrument Landing System approach, and then asked the airport how their ILS was working. He was an old-timer with gray hair and tic-tac-toe wrinkles in the back of his neck. He could have flown down to San Francisco, or back to Salt Lake City, but he brought the 720 down through the soft ice cream the moment he was assured that there was no other traffic in his area.

At 700 feet, the plane came out underneath and he brought the big jet over the strobe lights at the end of the runway as though he did this every day. Over a hundred passengers got off at the terminal. Kelly and I had never been to Seattle before, so we took a taxi into town. It turned out to be 14 miles.

The cab driver was a lady, and I couldn't permit her to toss the bags into the trunk. So I did it. "First time in Seattle?" she said. We said yes. She kept her eyes on the road and nodded. "You'll like it," she said. "A real friendly place." We drove on in silence.

"We're building a new freeway," she said. I expressed polite interest. She said it would go smack through the middle of Seattle. "Costs $23,000,000 a mile," she said. "They had to condemn a lot of buildings, you know." Interesting, I said. "They say we have 561,000 population here," she said, "but they're off their rockers. We have 600,000 in the city and another hundred thousand in the suburbs. This is a big place."

She was a real civic booster; a real talker — not always accurate, but more woman than taxi driver. She asked where we were staying. "At the Downtown Athletic Club," I said, "wherever that is." The lady nodded. "Good place. Fifteen floors." I said that we had room 2006. "Ha!" she said. "Somebody made a mistake. I've been here all my life and it never had more than 15 stories."

Kelly asked her about newspapers. "We have two," she said. "I read the P.I." I asked what P.I. meant. "Post Intelligencer," she said. "Everybody knows that." This column is published in the P.I., among other newspapers, but we didn't tell her that.

"Do they have many columnists?" Kelly said. The lady pulled up to a stop light. Near it was an arrow pointing north to Vancouver, and another pointing south to Portland. "Oh yes," she said. She began to tick off the names. She mentioned six or eight. Mine was not among them. Mrs. B stuck her tongue out at me.

"Is there someone named Jim Bishop writing for the paper?" Kelly said. The driver pulled ahead on the green light, passed a part of the big Boeing plant, and said: "Oh yes. Do you know him?" She said she had read some of his stories.

"Then," the cab driver said, "you must read the P.I. because he's local, you see." Kelly said "Oh?" The driver said that Bishop was a Seattle boy. She didn't know him, but she knew his family pretty well. They live out on the shores of Lake Washington. "Nice people," she said. "But his stories are a little too simple for me."

I asked how far it might be to the 15-story hotel where we had a room on the 20th floor. "Down this hill," she said. "While you're here, you should have lunch up in the Space Needle. It's the biggest thing west of the Mississippi." I restrained an impulse to tell her that she was the biggest thing on either side of the Mississippi.

When we reached the hotel, I permitted her to take the suitcases out of the trunk. Here again, she had to make me look bad. She lifted them out two at a time.

In the lobby, we found that the Downtown Athletic Club had added five stories. "Okay local boy," Kelly said. "Lead the way." In the room, we could see much of the city which sits in the northwest corner of the United States, at the bottom of an artichoke of beautiful mountains.

"Did you tip the lady?" Kelly said. Sure, I did. "How much was the bill?" she said. "Five dollars and ninety cents," I said. "So," she said. "What did the last of the great spenders give his fan? Six dollars?" I shrugged. "What else?" I said . . .

Bobcats Unable To Cope With Broncos' Height

New Jersey Quint Moves Into Finals Against Bloomfield

Rider College of Trenton (N.J.), using its superior height to good advantage, dealt Frostburg State's Bobcats a 90-52 defeat last night in a semi-final contest of the NAIA District 31 tournament at Trenton.

Two New Jersey schools squared off in the other semi-final match, with Bloomfield downing Glassboro, 70-60. Rider and Bloomfield will meet tonight for the District 31 championship and a berth in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City next week.

The Bobcats, who posted a regular season record of 17 wins and three losses, stayed with the favored Broncos throughout most of the first half.

Broncos Boast Height

However the Garden Staters, who boasted three players over the six-foot-four mark, wore Frostburg down after intermission and turned the contest into a runaway.

FSTC trailed by a mere two points (25-23) with three minutes to go in the first half, but Rider hit a hot streak and outscored the Bobcats 16-4 to take a 41-27 halftime advantage.

The score was tied five times in the opening minutes — at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 14-all.

Hank Winner connected on a field goal for Frostburg to open the second half, but the Broncos then went on a spree that netted them 16 points in a row to put the game out of reach.

Baker Leads Attack

Five players hit in double figures for Rider. Six-foot-five forward Dave Baker led the attack with 20. Jack Cryan collected 17 (15 in the first half) and six-eight pivotman Randy Getchis grabbed 13.

George Lauder, who accounted for 15 of the Bobcats' points in the first half, finished with 17. Winner, with 12, was the only other Frostburg cager in double digits.

Cliff Wells To Head Cage Hall Of Fame

Quits Coaching Post At Tulane

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Cliff Wells, Tulane's basketball mentor who is credited with coaching more games than any other living coach, resigned Tuesday night to head the new Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Wells, 66, and a coach for 47 years, will become the first full-time executive secretary and director of the institute in Springfield, Mass. He takes the post July 1.

"This is a tremendous honor for me," Wells said, "because it is the fulfillment of a lifelong ambition. It is even more of an honor to know that my selection was made by my fellow coaches."

The Hall of Fame will be housed in a $1 million structure on the Springfield College campus. The college is the site of the invention of basketball by James Naismith in 1891.

During his coaching career, Wells' teams won 885 and lost 418 for a .678 percentage. Tulane says his total of 1,303 games represents more contests than any living coach.

Trio Of Negro Teams

By C. V. BURNS

MARYLAND'S scholastic basketball tournament at College Park has a new look this year in that it will be integrated for the first time in its long history.

At least three all-Negro teams, Fairmont Heights in Class A, Douglass High in Class B and Garnett High in Class C, have qualified for the state semi-finals at College Park this weekend. Many of the other schools that heretofore were all white now have Negro players on their squads.

Allegany's Campers face Fairmont Heights, located near Hyattsville, Thursday at 7:30 p. m., while Douglass opposes Glenelg Thursday at 6 p. m. Garnett is to battle the winner of last night's Hancock-Mt. Airy game at 4:30 Friday at Cole Field House.

BYRON ROBERTS, of the Washington Post, reports Fairmont Heights has had outstanding teams for several seasons and this year rated among the top ten in the Post's annual poll. Most of Fairmont's foes were Class A teams but they also whipped several topnotch Class AA quints, according to Roberts.

THERE'S an interesting story concerning the rise of Douglass High, designated as a "country" school and located on Croom road just off Route 301 in Upper Marlboro.

Until 1960 the Prince Georges county Negro school was located behind the county courthouse and jail, hardly conducive to study or athletics. The basketball team used to get beaten by resounding scores.

In the summer of that year the school was moved into a beautiful new building near Croom, with a modern gymnasium capable of holding over 1,000 spectators.

Much of the credit for the team's success goes to Coach Charles Briggs whose present quint is 19-4 after 14-5 and 15-5 seasons.

Horace "Butch" Owens, the team's scoring ace, is reported to be something special. He is 6-2, tips the beam at 188 and owns a 28.5 average this season.

Owens fell and chipped several bones in his right ankle as Douglass lost a 73-68 thriller to the Class A champion Fairmont Heights. He scored 39 points in that game but was sidelined the next nine. "Butch," the 16-year-old son of a Marlboro plumber, is back in action and since his return Douglass High has reeled off seven consecutive victories.

If Mt. Savage High School advances to the state finals Douglass High could be its opponent in the championship game at College Park Saturday afternoon.

SPRINGBROOK High School, a team that was supposed to be a year away, will represent Montgomery county in Class A at College Park in its first season of varsity competition.

The Montgomery county school doesn't have a senior class. At the close of the regular season Springbrook and Sherwood tied for first place and in the playoff game Springbrook won 44-43. Then the Montgomery champs knocked off Howard County High School to qualify for a berth in the state tourney.

Allegany, Fairmont Heights, Wicomico of Salisbury and Springbrook are the Class A schools competing for state honors at Cole Field House this week.

FLINTSTONE High School is withdrawing from the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League this year, according to James H. White, principal.

Lack of interest among the students is given as the reason.

The Aggies have been in the league for eleven consecutive years, having made their debut in 1952.

Withdrawal of Flintstone reduces the number of league teams to seven.

BRUCE High School's application for a berth in the Potomac Valley Conference will be acted upon when that circuit holds its spring meeting Monday night at Burlington, W. Va.

There are 19 schools in the circuit now, 16 from West Virginia and three from Maryland, namely, Southern, LaSalle and Beall.

ALLEGANY High School will be competing for its 13th state championship this week.

Since the schools were classified in 1947 Campobello teams have won thrice in the past 16 years. Allegany, incidentally, has not copped a state Class A championship since 1954. Fort Hill was the last Allegany county "A" winner in 1958.

Mt. Savage goes to the state tourney for the first time. Allegany county schools have won the Class B crown nine times in the past 16 years. Bruce and Valley have captured three titles each, old Central of Lonaconing, two, and Beall, one.

Barton High School took state Class C honors thrice and Bruce High was a two-times winners.

County Scholastic Baseball League To Meet Monday

A schedule will be adopted and other plans for the 1963 season will be discussed at a meeting of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League Monday, March 11, at 7:30 p. m., in the library at Allegany High School.

Walter L. Bowers will preside.

Eight schools, namely, Allegany, Beall, Bruce, Flintstone, Fort Hill, LaSalle, Mt. Savage and Valley were in the league last season. Beall won the league championship in 1962.

Canadiens Win, 4-3

DETROIT (UPI) — Montreal came from behind on third period goals by Bobby Rousseau and Ralph Backstrom to defeat the Detroit Red Wings 4-3 Tuesday night and hold on to third place in the National Hockey League.

Detroit had the lead three times in the penalty marked game but couldn't pull off the victory that would have moved the Wings into a third place tie with the Canadiens.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Many have reported satisfaction from the Ebb Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? It costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience.

Just go to the Ft. Cumberland Hotel in Cumberland, Md., Thursday, March 7, only, between p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for J. L. Thomas.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Take action—before it's too late.

Rider Trounces Frostburg State In NAIA Tournament, 90-52

Bobcats Unable To Cope With Broncos' Height

Rider College of Trenton (N.J.), using its superior height to good advantage, dealt Frostburg State's Bobcats a 90-52 defeat last night in a semi-final contest of the NAIA District 31 tournament at Trenton.

Two New Jersey schools squared off in the other semi-final match, with Bloomfield downing Glassboro, 70-60. Rider and Bloomfield will meet tonight for the District 31 championship and a berth in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City next week.

The Bobcats, who posted a regular season record of 17 wins and three losses, stayed with the favored Broncos throughout most of the first half.

Broncos Boast Height

However the Garden Staters, who boasted three players over the six-foot-four mark, wore Frostburg down after intermission and turned the contest into a runaway.

FSTC trailed by a mere two points (25-23) with three minutes to go in the first half, but Rider hit a hot streak and outscored the Bobcats 16-4 to take a 41-27 halftime advantage.

The score was tied five times in the opening minutes — at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 14-all.

Hank Winner connected on a field goal for Frostburg to open the second half, but the Broncos then went on a spree that netted them 16 points in a row to put the game out of reach.

Baker Leads Attack

Five players hit in double figures for Rider. Six-foot-five forward Dave Baker led the attack with 20. Jack Cryan collected 17 (15 in the first half) and six-eight pivotman Randy Getchis grabbed 13.

George Lauder, who accounted for 15 of the Bobcats' points in the first half, finished with 17. Winner, with 12, was the only other Frostburg cager in double digits.

Cliff Wells To Head Cage Hall Of Fame

Quits Coaching Post At Tulane

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Cliff Wells, Tulane's basketball mentor who is credited with coaching more games than any other living coach, resigned Tuesday night to head the new Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Wells, 66, and a coach for 47 years, will become the first full-time executive secretary and director of the institute in Springfield, Mass. He takes the post July 1.

"This is a tremendous honor for me," Wells said, "because it is the fulfillment of a lifelong ambition. It is even more of an honor to know that my selection was made by my fellow coaches."

The Hall of Fame will be housed in a $1 million structure on the Springfield College campus. The college is the site of the invention of basketball by James Naismith in 1891.

During his coaching career, Wells' teams won 885 and lost 418 for a .678 percentage. Tulane says his total of 1,303 games represents more contests than any living coach.

Integrated Tourney — Trio Of Negro Teams
Aggies Drop Baseball — State Champs Listed

By C. V. BURNS

MARYLAND'S scholastic basketball tournament at College Park has a new look this year in that it will be integrated for the first time in its long history.

At least three all-Negro teams, Fairmont Heights in Class A, Douglass High in Class B and Garnett High in Class C, have qualified for the state semi-finals at College Park this weekend. Many of the other schools that heretofore were all white now have Negro players on their squads.

Allegany's Campers face Fairmont Heights, located near Hyattsville, Thursday at 7:30 p. m., while Douglass opposes Glenelg Thursday at 6 p. m. Garnett is to battle the winner of last night's Hancock-Mt. Airy game at 4:30 Friday at Cole Field House.

BYRON ROBERTS, of the Washington Post, reports Fairmont Heights has had outstanding teams for several seasons and this year rated among the top ten in the Post's annual poll. Most of Fairmont's foes were Class A teams but they also whipped several topnotch Class AA quints, according to Roberts.

THERE'S an interesting story concerning the rise of Douglass High, designated as a "country" school and located on Croom road just off Route 301 in Upper Marlboro.

Until 1960 the Prince Georges county Negro school was located behind the county courthouse and jail, hardly conducive to study or athletics. The basketball team used to get beaten by resounding scores.

In the summer of that year the school was moved into a beautiful new building near Croom, with a modern gymnasium capable of holding over 1,000 spectators.

Much of the credit for the team's success goes to Coach Charles Briggs whose present quint is 19-4 after 14-5 and 15-5 seasons.

Horace "Butch" Owens, the team's scoring ace, is reported to be something special. He is 6-2, tips the beam at 188 and owns a 28.5 average this season.

Owens fell and chipped several bones in his right ankle as Douglass lost a 73-68 thriller to the Class A champion Fairmont Heights. He scored 39 points in that game but was sidelined the next nine. "Butch," the 16-year-old son of a Marlboro plumber, is back in action and since his return Douglass High has reeled off seven consecutive victories.

If Mt. Savage High School advances to the state finals Douglass High could be its opponent in the championship game at College Park Saturday afternoon.

SPRINGBROOK High School, a team that was supposed to be a year away, will represent Montgomery county in Class A at College Park in its first season of varsity competition.

The Montgomery county school doesn't have a senior class. At the close of the regular season Springbrook and Sherwood tied for first place and in the playoff game Springbrook won 44-43. Then the Montgomery champs knocked off Howard County High School to qualify for a berth in the state tourney.

Allegany, Fairmont Heights, Wicomico of Salisbury and Springbrook are the Class A schools competing for state honors at Cole Field House this week.

FLINTSTONE High School is withdrawing from the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League this year, according to James H. White, principal.

Lack of interest among the students is given as the reason.

The Aggies have been in the league for eleven consecutive years, having made their debut in 1952.

Withdrawal of Flintstone reduces the number of league teams to seven.

BRUCE High School's application for a berth in the Potomac Valley Conference will be acted upon when that circuit holds its spring meeting Monday night at Burlington, W. Va.

There are 19 schools in the circuit now, 16 from West Virginia and three from Maryland, namely, Southern, LaSalle and Beall.

ALLEGANY High School will be competing for its 13th state championship this week.

Since the schools were classified in 1947 Campobello teams have won thrice in the past 16 years. Allegany, incidentally, has not copped a state Class A championship since 1954. Fort Hill was the last Allegany county "A" winner in 1958.

Mt. Savage goes to the state tourney for the first time. Allegany county schools have won the Class B crown nine times in the past 16 years. Bruce and Valley have captured three titles each, old Central of Lonaconing, two, and Beall, one.

Barton High School took state Class C honors thrice and Bruce High was a two-times winners.

County Scholastic Baseball League To Meet Monday

A schedule will be adopted and other plans for the 1963 season will be discussed at a meeting of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League Monday, March 11, at 7:30 p. m., in the library at Allegany High School.

Walter L. Bowers will preside.

Eight schools, namely, Allegany, Beall, Bruce, Flintstone, Fort Hill, LaSalle, Mt. Savage and Valley were in the league last season. Beall won the league championship in 1962.

Canadiens Win, 4-3

DETROIT (UPI) — Montreal came from behind on third period goals by Bobby Rousseau and Ralph Backstrom to defeat the Detroit Red Wings 4-3 Tuesday night and hold on to third place in the National Hockey League.

Detroit had the lead three times in the penalty marked game but couldn't pull off the victory that would have moved the Wings into a third place tie with the Canadiens.

If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Many have reported satisfaction from the Ebb Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? It costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience.

Cincinnati's Ed Jucker Named College Coach Of Year By UPI

Bearcat Boss Wins Honor By Wide Margin

Loyola's Ireland Second In Voting Ahead Of Taylor

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ed Jucker of Cincinnati, whose frenzied dedication to basketball has earned him one of the most remarkable records in college history, Tuesday was voted United Press International coach-of-the-year for 1962-63.

The 45-year-old Jucker, who next week starts the Bearcats in quest of an unprecedented third straight NCAA championship, was elected by a wide margin in a nationwide poll of 263 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters.

Jucker received 118 votes in the poll, compared to 44 for his closest rival, George Ireland of Loyola (Ill.). Fred Taylor of Ohio State, who won coach-of-the-year honors in 1961 and 1962, was third with 20 votes.

There are some who may say that Jucker's job was made easy by the brilliant array of talent at his command.

His Efforts Important

There are many more, however, particularly his fellow coaches, who will argue that of equal importance in Cincinnati's achievements were Jucker's day-to-day and game-by-game handling of his fine players, his excellent defense-emphasizing coaching and his knack of keeping his boys "up" throughout the rigors of their Missouri Valley Conference schedule.

"This is the highlight of my career," said Jucker upon learning that he had been voted the honor. "It is every coach's dream, of course. I am surprised and happy. Give the credit to my assistants (Tay Baker and John Powless) and the ballplayers. They made it possible through their sacrifices and supreme effort."

There was a strong feeling among college basketball followers that energetic Jucker was taking on more than he could handle three seasons ago when he replaced his boss, George Smith, as head coach at Cincinnati.

The Bearcats had just completed three outstanding seasons led by Oscar Robertson. But with Robertson graduating, many felt that Cincinnati had nowhere to go but down.

Even Better Record

It is largely to Jucker's credit that Cincinnati did even better during his first three years as head coach than it did with Robertson.

In his first two seasons, Cincinnati compiled 27-3 and 29-2 records, was ranked No. 2 nationally each year and upset top-ranked Ohio State in the finals of the NCAA tournament.

This season, the Bearcats have compiled a 23-1 regular - season record and have been ranked No. 1 nationally every week by the UPI board of coaches.

In three seasons under Jucker, Cincinnati has compiled an astounding record of 79 victories and only 6 defeats.

(Following the first three in the nationwide voting came: Vic Bubas of Duke, with 14 votes; Ned Wulk, Arizona State, 11 votes; John (Whack) Hyder, Georgia Tech, 8 votes; Harold Anderson, Bowling Green, and Babe McCarthy, Mississippi State, 4 votes each; and Ralph Miller, Wichita; Lou Rossini, New York University, and Bob Mackinnon, Canisius, 3 votes each.)

Art Heyman Named ACC Player Of Year

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI)—Duke's Art Heyman, already named All-America and the nation's basketball Player of the Year, Tuesday was picked player of the year in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Earlier, Heyman was a unanimous selection for the all-conference teams for three successive years. He was also a unanimous choice for the all - tournament team this year, which was the third time he was so honored.

"He has to be the best player in Duke's history," said Duke Coach Vic Bubas. "He's just like a king in a checker game. I can move him anywhere and he gets the job done."

Giants And Cepeda Closer To Agreement

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — San Francisco Giants Vice President Charles Feeney said Tuesday he was getting a little closer to terms with Orlando Cepeda, the star first baseman who is one of the top major leaguers still listed as a holdout.

Orlando apparently is balking at reported requests for him to take a cut from his $46,500 salary last year. It was indicated he would be the only Giant on the squad to take a cut in pay.

THAT ONE HURT—Terry Downes, former co-holder of the world middleweight boxing title, lands a solid right to the head of Jimmy Beecham of Miami in sixth round of their fight last night in Seymour Hall, London, England. Downes stopped the American in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-rounder with referee Tommy Little halting the action as Downes chased Beecham around the ring with a flurry of punches. Aaron Celebrates Arrival At Camp By Slamming Ball

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Henry Aaron, delayed four days by the illness of his son, reported to the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday and celebrated his arrival by hitting two of the first five balls pitched to him out of the park.

Even a strong wind didn't bother the perennial all-star outfielder, who looked ready to start the season. He checked in at 185-pounds — within two or three pounds of his best weight.

Conference Honors Bubas, Duke Coach

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI)—Duke Coach Vic Bubas, who will take his Blue Devils to the regional NCAA basketball playoffs later this month, was named Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year Tuesday.

Bubas, who guided the Blue Devils to the ACC championship and the nation's longest 1963 winning streak, was selected by a vote of 93 members of the ACC Sports Writers Association.

The 36 - year - old Bubas, who played his college basketball with North Carolina State College, led the Blue Devils to 18 consecutive victories this season. The team is ranked second in the nation by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

His teams at Duke have won 83 games while losing 24 and this was the third consecutive season they have won more than 20 games.

Fabled Number One Jinx Doesn't Bother Jucker

Coach Believes Rating Will Make Team Play Harder

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Wer'e not afraid of being No. 1—in fact, after 15 weeks at the spot we've sort of come to like it," Jucker said Tuesday. "We'd be jealous if anyone else tried to claim it.

"This talk of hte No. 1 ranking being a kiss of death is ridiculous. I think it came from the fact that Ohio States was No. 1 the last two years and then failed to win the tournament.

"Instead of making us tense and under pressure, the rating should make us play all the harder to prove we're worthy of it."

Cincinnati, which closed out its regular season with a 23-1 mark, topped The Associated Press' weekly poll for the 15th straight time Tuesday in the next-to-last balloting among a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bearcats received 33 of the 42 first place votes for a total of 393 points, leading second-place Duke by a margin of 64 points, awarded on a 10-9-8, etc., basis.

Completing the top ten were: 3, Ohio State; 4, Arizona State; 5, Loyola of Chicago; 6, Wichita; 7, Mississippi State; 8, Illinois; 9, Stanford; 10, Providence.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses and points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Cincinnati (33)	23	1	393

Downes Whips Beecham On Controversial TKO

Referee Stops Bout To Save American From Punishment

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's Terry Downes, former world middleweight co-champion, registered his fourth straight comeback victory Tuesday night on a controversial ninth - round technical knockout over Jimmy Beecham of Philadelphia at Seymour Hall.

Little's action seemed to surprise both fighters and it was booed heartily by the 1,750 fans, who were watching the Britain-wide televised bout.

Downes jacknifed Beecham with a solid right to the stomach early in the ninth round and, although Beecham was hanging on in a desperate clinch, he appeared fit enough to continue when the referee stopped the bout midway in the round for Beecham's fifth straight defeat.

Downes was clearly ahead on points, apparently having won every preceding round except the seventh. Britain's Terry, who had learned to box while in the United States Marines, weighed 163¼ pounds to Beecham's 155¾.

There were no knockdowns. Downes, who cuts easily, was nicked high on the left cheek in the second round; and he suffered a gash on the bridge of his nose in the fifth. Beecham's right brow was cut in the third session.

Twenty-six-year-old Downes, a wealthy bookmaker for West London betting men in addition to being a prominent puglist, scored his fourth straight victory since losing back his half of the middle-weight crown to American Paul Pender last April 7.

Terry received approximately $8,400 for the bout. Beecham, 28, got about $2,100. It was Terry's 32nd victory and 25th knockout in 39 fights. Beecham suffered his 21st defeat and sixth kayo in 63.

Mount Buying Reported At Bowie Track

Full Investigation Promised By Livie

BALTIMORE (AP) — R. Bruce Livie, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, promised Tuesday a full investigation of reports that jockeys and their agents were purchasing rides at Bowie race course.

"If such activity proves to be going on," Livie said, "I'll take steps to halt it immediately. I plan to talk to stewards, jockeys, agents, representatives of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau and everyone else concerned at Bowie today."

William Boniface, Evening Sun racing editor, had charged that some jockeys were buying rides on the top horses through deals arranged by their agents. Boniface said some jockeys paid for their mounts with sizable bets for the trainers.

"Of course," Livie told Boniface Tuesday, "we must first learn if this buying of mounts is taking place as stated in your newspaper story. If it is, we'll find out and it'll be stopped. The guilty ones will be penalized.

"I have the highest confidence in our stewards and don't believe they were any more aware of such a situation than I was. . .I'm glad the matter has been brought to light and, if there's anything to it, we'll get to the bottom of it. That's all I can say until we make a full investigation."

Aaron Celebrates Arrival At Camp By Slamming Ball

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Henry Aaron, delayed four days by the illness of his son, reported to the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday and celebrated his arrival by hitting two of the first five balls pitched to him out of the park.

Even a strong wind didn't bother the perennial all-star outfielder, who looked ready to start the season. He checked in at 185-pounds — within two or three pounds of his best weight.

Fabled Number One Jinx Doesn't Bother Jucker

Coach Believes Rating Will Make Team Play Harder

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Wer'e not afraid of being No. 1—in fact, after 15 weeks at the spot we've sort of come to like it," Jucker said Tuesday. "We'd be jealous if anyone else tried to claim it.

"This talk of hte No. 1 ranking being a kiss of death is ridiculous. I think it came from the fact that Ohio States was No. 1 the last two years and then failed to win the tournament.

"Instead of making us tense and under pressure, the rating should make us play all the harder to prove we're worthy of it."

Cincinnati, which closed out its regular season with a 23-1 mark, topped The Associated Press' weekly poll for the 15th straight time Tuesday in the next-to-last balloting among a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bearcats received 33 of the 42 first place votes for a total of 393 points, leading second-place Duke by a margin of 64 points, awarded on a 10-9-8, etc., basis.

Completing the top ten were: 3, Ohio State; 4, Arizona State; 5, Loyola of Chicago; 6, Wichita; 7, Mississippi State; 8, Illinois; 9, Stanford; 10, Providence.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses and points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Cincinnati (33)	23	1	393
2. Duke (8)	24	2	329

Referee Stops Bout To Save American From Punishment

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's Terry Downes, former world middleweight co-champion, registered his fourth straight comeback victory Tuesday night on a controversial ninth - round technical knockout over Jimmy Beecham of Philadelphia at Seymour Hall.

Referee Tommy Little stopped the fight to save the American from further punishment, he said.

Little's action seemed to surprise both fighters and it was booed heartily by the 1,750 fans, who were watching the Britain-wide televised bout.

Downes jacknifed Beecham with a solid right to the stomach early in the ninth round and, although Beecham was hanging on in a desperate clinch, he appeared fit enough to continue when the referee stopped the bout midway in the round for Beecham's fifth straight defeat.

Downes was clearly ahead on points, apparently having won every preceding round except the seventh. Britain's Terry, who had learned to box while in the United States Marines, weighed 163¼ pounds to Beecham's 155¾.

There were no knockdowns. Downes, who cuts easily, was nicked high on the left cheek in the second round; and he suffered a gash on the bridge of his nose in the fifth. Beecham's right brow was cut in the third session.

Twenty-six-year-old Downes, a wealthy bookmaker for West London betting men in addition to being a prominent puglist, scored his fourth straight victory since losing back his half of the middle-weight crown to American Paul Pender last April 7.

Terry received approximately $8,400 for the bout. Beecham, 28, got about $2,100. It was Terry's 32nd victory and 25th knockout in 39 fights. Beecham suffered his 21st defeat and sixth kayo in 63.

Mount Buying Reported At Bowie Track

Full Investigation Promised By Livie

BALTIMORE (AP) — R. Bruce Livie, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, promised Tuesday a full investigation of reports that jockeys and their agents were purchasing rides at Bowie race course.

"If such activity proves to be going on," Livie said, "I'll take steps to halt it immediately. I plan to talk to stewards, jockeys, agents, representatives of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau and everyone else concerned at Bowie today."

William Boniface, Evening Sun racing editor, had charged that some jockeys were buying rides on the top horses through deals arranged by their agents. Boniface said some jockeys paid for their mounts with sizable bets for the trainers.

"Of course," Livie told Boniface Tuesday, "we must first learn if this buying of mounts is taking place as stated in your newspaper story. If it is, we'll find out and it'll be stopped. The guilty ones will be penalized.

"I have the highest confidence in our stewards and don't believe they were any more aware of such a situation than I was. . .I'm glad the matter has been brought to light and, if there's anything to it, we'll get to the bottom of it. That's all I can say until we make a full investigation."

Baltimore May Get NBA Team

Zephyr Franchise Transfer Possible

BALTIMORE (AP)—The owner of the Chicago Zephyrs said Tuesday night there is a 50-50 chance he will move his National Basketball Association team to Baltimore next season.

Dave Trager, who owns 50 per cent of the Zephyr stock, met Tuesday with NBA president Maurice Podoloff, Robert Short of the Los Angeles Lakers and members of the Baltimore Civic Center Commission.

Transfer of the franchise apparently is contingent, at least in part, upon finding a sponsor for a radio-TV package and sale of 3,000 season books.

Trager said the commission had proposed attractive terms for rental of the new $14 million Civic Center and for subsidies of the concession stands. The commission was expected to pass the terms to the Board of Estimates for approval.

Trager, in a telephone conversation to Chicago with general manager Frank Lane, was quoted as saying a decision will be made within a week. He said present ownership of the Zephyrs was guaranteed in the possible switch.

The NBA already has approved a move if Trager decides to make it. The association gave him until April 30 to decide.

Valley High Enters Team In Wrestling Tournament

Four High Schools To Vie For County Title This Weekend

The field for the first annual Allegany County high school wrestling tournament has been increased to four teams, with the announcement that Valley High School will enter the event scheduled for this weekend at Allegany.

Teams originally entered in the tourney are Allegany, Beall and Bruce.

Tournament director Ronald Chapman announced yesterday that competition will begin at 7 p. m. on both nights, Friday and Saturday. There will be two matches each night, with Friday's winners meeting for the championship on Saturday, and the two opening night losers in a consolation match Saturday.

Team points will be awarded on the basis of 10 for first place, seven for second, four for third, and two for fourth place. Individual and team trophies will be presented.

There will be individual matches in 12 weight classes, and weigh-in time has been set for 6:15 p. m. on Friday.

Detroit Pistons Defeat Warriors

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Detroit Pistons rallied from an eight point halftime deficit to defeat the San Francisco Warriors 111-102 Tuesday night and protect their slim third-place margin in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

A last second basket by Detroit's Don Ohl gave him a game high of 42 points. Wilt Chamberlain scored 25 points for San Francisco. He was held scoreless in the fourth quarter.

Phillies' Hoak Has Rough Day

The former Pittsburgh Pirate was hit in the back by a Jack Hamilton fast ball during morning batting practice, was hit in the chest by a ball thrown by Earl Averill later on when he wasn't looking, and then fouled a ball off his left ankle in batting practice following an intra-squad game

The latter injury was extremly painful and trainer Joe Liscio hurriedly applied an ice pack to keep the ankle from swelling. The bruise may keep Hoak sidelined for several days.

Baltimore May Get NBA Team

Zephyr Franchise Transfer Possible

BALTIMORE (AP)—The owner of the Chicago Zephyrs said Tuesday night there is a 50-50 chance he will move his National Basketball Association team to Baltimore next season.

Dave Trager, who owns 50 per cent of the Zephyr stock, met Tuesday with NBA president Maurice Podoloff, Robert Short of the Los Angeles Lakers and members of the Baltimore Civic Center Commission.

Transfer of the franchise apparently is contingent, at least in part, upon finding a sponsor for a radio-TV package and sale of 3,000 season books.

Trager said the commission had proposed attractive terms for rental of the new $14 million Civic Center and for subsidies of the concession stands. The commission was expected to pass the terms to the Board of Estimates for approval.

Trager, in a telephone conversation to Chicago with general manager Frank Lane, was quoted as saying a decision will be made within a week. He said present ownership of the Zephyrs was guaranteed in the possible switch.

The NBA already has approved a move if Trager decides to make it. The association gave him until April 30 to decide.

Valley High Enters Team In Wrestling Tournament

Four High Schools To Vie For County Title This Weekend

The field for the first annual Allegany County high school wrestling tournament has been increased to four teams, with the announcement that Valley High School will enter the event scheduled for this weekend at Allegany.

Coached by Alexander Ganyu, the newly-formed Valley team made its varsity debut last night in a match with Keyser.

Teams originally entered in the tourney are Allegany, Beall and Bruce.

Tournament director Ronald Chapman announced yesterday that competition will begin at 7 p. m. on both nights, Friday and Saturday. There will be two matches each night, with Friday's winners meeting for the championship on Saturday, and the two opening night losers in a consolation match Saturday.

Team points will be awarded on the basis of 10 for first place, seven for second, four for third, and two for fourth place. Individual and team trophies will be presented.

There will be individual matches in 12 weight classes, and weigh-in time has been set for 6:15 p. m. on Friday.

Phillies' Hoak Has Rough Day

The former Pittsburgh Pirate was hit in the back by a Jack Hamilton fast ball during morning batting practice, was hit in the chest by a ball thrown by Earl Averill later on when he wasn't looking, and then fouled a ball off his left ankle in batting practice following an intra-squad game

The latter injury was extremly painful and trainer Joe Liscio hurriedly applied an ice pack to keep the ankle from swelling. The bruise may keep Hoak sidelined for several days.

Stock Trading Dwindles On Irregular Market

Changes of most key stocks were fractional. Here and there a stock made a move of a point or so.

The market was plainly lacking from incentive to move sharply in either direction. The advance of the previous day, while large on average, was accompanied by such dull trading that traders saw no portents of a strong recovery move.

Of 1,276 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 546 to 449. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 12 and new lows 4.

Among the 15 most active stocks gainers and losers were even at six each while three were unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 730,000 shares compared with 910,000 Monday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Unexpectedly large export figures for soybeans last week sparked a strong advance in futures prices for that grain Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ½ to up 1¼, corn unchanged to off 1⅝, oats off ⅛ to ⅞, rye unchanged to off ¼ and soybeans up ½ to 1¼.

Soybeans jumped off to a strong start on general buying and short covering prompted by Monday's government announcement that beans inspected for export exceeded all previous estimates. Demand also picked up for meal and oil.

About 5,584,000 bushels of soybeans were inspected for export during the week ended March 1, up from 3,411,000 a week earlier. Inspections since Oct. 1 were about 9,000,000 ahead of this time last year.

March wheat was relatively stronger than other deliveries of the bread grain as many elevators bought March and sold later positions. Commission houses bought May on the decline.

Heavy government sales depressed the corn market. Many traders feared the agency may be changing its selling policy which, up to now, disposed of corn at a slower rate than a year ago.

Outside markets were mixed.

Stock Trading Dwindles On Irregular Market

Volume settled back to 3.29 million shares from 3.65 million Monday.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional. Here and there a stock made a move of a point or so.

The market was plainly lacking from incentive to move sharply in either direction. The advance of the previous day, while large on average, was accompanied by such dull trading that traders saw no portents of a strong recovery move.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 at 253.9 with industrials down .5, rails down .5, and utilities up .2.

Of 1,276 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 546 to 449. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 12 and new lows 4.

Among the 15 most active stocks gainers and losers were even at six each while three were unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 730,000 shares compared with 910,000 Monday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Unexpectedly large export figures for soybeans last week sparked a strong advance in futures prices for that grain Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Old crop wheat rallied from an early decline, but other grains worked steady to lower in mixed trading.

Wheat closed off ½ to up 1¼, corn unchanged to off 1⅝, oats off ⅛ to ⅞, rye unchanged to off ¼ and soybeans up ½ to 1¼.

Soybeans jumped off to a strong start on general buying and short covering prompted by Monday's government announcement that beans inspected for export exceeded all previous estimates. Demand also picked up for meal and oil.

About 5,584,000 bushels of soybeans were inspected for export during the week ended March 1, up from 3,411,000 a week earlier. Inspections since Oct. 1 were about 9,000,000 ahead of this time last year.

March wheat was relatively stronger than other deliveries of the bread grain as many elevators bought March and sold later positions. Commission houses bought May on the decline.

Heavy government sales depressed the corn market. Many traders feared the agency may be changing its selling policy which, up to now, disposed of corn at a slower rate than a year ago.

The weakness in corn spilled over into the oats pit. Selling was mainly by locals, while commercial houses bought on the decline.

Rye futures were narrow in quiet and featureless trading.

Outside markets were mixed.

STATE ROADS COMMISSION OF MARYLAND, Acting for and on behalf of the STATE OF MARYLAND vs. CHARLOTTE I. RUPPERT, Widow, 410 Central Avenue, Cumberland, Maryland; IRENE M. THOMAS and CLIFFORD A. THOMAS, her husband, 110 Bedford Street, Cumberland, Maryland; VINCENT F. RUPPERT, 7918 15th Avenue, Apt. 201, Hyattsville, Montgomery County, Maryland; FAYE RUPPERT, Non-Compos Mentis, St. Elizabeth Hospital, Congress Heights, Washington, D. C.; ROBERT C. RUPPERT and FLORENCE RUPPERT, his wife, 629 Baylor Road, Glen Burnie, Anne Arundel County, Maryland; COUNTY COMMISSIONERS FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY, Cumberland, Maryland; ANY AND ALL UNKNOWN HEIRS OF HENRY A. RUPPERT, deceased.

NO. 6162 LAW. IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY. Filed Feb. 8, 1963.

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the 22nd Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to Charlotte I. Ruppert, Widow; Irene M. Thomas and Clifford A. Thomas, her husband; Vincent F. Ruppert; Faye Ruppert, his wife, (Non-compos mentis); Robert C. Ruppert and Florence Ruppert, his wife; County Commissioners for Allegany County and Any And All Unknown Heirs of Henry A. Ruppert, deceased.

The Petition states that the State Roads Commission of Maryland is charged with the construction and maintenance of the highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That it has determined it necessary and proper to acquire for the purposes referred to in said Petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the 22nd Election District of Allegany County, which land was conveyed to Henry A. Ruppert from Lewis M. Wilson, Trustee, by deed dated November 19, 1924 and recorded on November 20, 1924 among the Land Records of Allegany County in Liber 148, Folio 652.

TOGETHER with the buildings and improvements thereon and the rights, alleys, ways, waters, roads, privileges, appurtenances and advantages to the same belonging or in anywise appertaining.

The Petition further states that the said property is now held by a Will dated June 27, 1946 and recorded on November 15, 1949 in Liber W, Folio 437, from Henry A. Ruppert to Charlotte I. Ruppert, et al. among the Will Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

(a) The property hereby sought to be condemned is subject to the lien of real estate taxes levied by and due the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the land and property sought to be condemned is in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the Cumberland Thruway — East Approach, a controlled acce [illegible] highway in Allegany County, Maryland.

That your Peti [illegible] able to make an agreement with the defendants and that your Petitioner has deposited a check in the amount of Nine Thousand Six Hundred Fifty-five ($9,655.00) Dollars, payable to the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, to the use of the aforesaid defendants, in the hands of the said Clerk, in conformity with the provisions of Article 89B, Section [illegible], Public General Laws of Maryland, said Petitioner deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damages done to the property, and that it is in the public interest and necessary for them to take possession for the aforesaid purposes.

That the defendant, Faye Ruppert, is presently an inmate at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Congress Heights, Washington, D. C., and is believed to have been adjudicated a non compos mentis, and may be served by process of a summons on the Superintendent of said St. Elizabeth Hospital, and by leaving a copy of the petition with said Superintendent.

That your Petitioner has attempted to set forth the interests or estates of all other parties having an interest, but notwithstanding such statement, your Petitioner is unable to designate by name all persons having an interest in the hereinbefore described parcel of land by reason of the indefinite nature of same, and your Petitioner accordingly makes parties to this proceeding any and all unknown heirs of Henry A. Ruppert, deceased, to the end that all of their right, title and interest of whatever extent or character may be divested of them and vested in the State Roads Commission of Maryland, acting for and on behalf of the State of Maryland.

IT IS THEREUPON ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, this 8" day of February, 1963, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Allegany County, State of Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 11th day of March, 1963, shall give notice to any and all unknown heirs of Henry A. Ruppert, deceased, of the substance and object of the petition and to appear in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, on or before the 12th day of April, 1963, and file their answer or other initial pleading in the Clerk's office of said Court, at Cumberland, Maryland, and to show cause if any they may have, why the property or said defendants' interest therein should not be condemned as prayed in said Petition.

Realty Ramblings . . .

Last week we promised you a series of articles intended to help you in buying your dream house, and further we stated that we would start them off by discussing the ever big question of financing. Well, here goes.

Most important at the very start is that you develop the correct philosophy relative to the purchase price of your house. All too often well meaning folks get off on a lifetime of hard and tiresome struggle to hold on to the house they have purchased simply because they started with the paramount question in their mind of "how much house they needed" rather than "how much house they could afford."

T. T. SUMMERS

Unless you leave yourself a cushion to take care of the unexpected illness, or the unforetold period of unemployment, you may very well wind up losing your home at the very time when you need it the most.

A good rule of thumb to follow is that your home should cost you no more than 2½ to 3 times your annual salary plus any other stable and sure income which you might have. 3 times is the absolute outside limit, 2½ times is even better. And, unless you have enough cash for the entire purchase price, which few of us do these days, do not be influenced by the amount of cash you have on hand. Stick to the formula.

And don't lie to yourself about cutting out this normal expenditure and that one, in order to stretch the 2½ times into fitting. This kind of shenanigan fools nobody but you.

No sales representative of a RELIABLE REALTOR will try to con you into getting involved in a house that is too much for you, so probably the safest way to start on your house hunting expedition is to seek out the services of a reliable REALTOR, such as ourselves.

Realty Ramblings . . .

Last week we promised you a series of articles intended to help you in buying your dream house, and further we stated that we would start them off by discussing the ever big question of financing. Well, here goes.

Most important at the very start is that you develop the correct philosophy relative to the purchase price of your house. All too often well meaning folks get off on a lifetime of hard and tiresome struggle to hold on to the house they have purchased simply because they started with the paramount question in their mind of "how much house they needed" rather than "how much house they could afford."

T. T. SUMMERS

Unless you leave yourself a cushion to take care of the unexpected illness, or the unforetold period of unemployment, you may very well wind up losing your home at the very time when you need it the most.

A good rule of thumb to follow is that your home should cost you no more than 2½ to 3 times your annual salary plus any other stable and sure income which you might have. 3 times is the absolute outside limit, 2½ times is even better. And, unless you have enough cash for the entire purchase price, which few of us do these days, do not be influenced by the amount of cash you have on hand. Stick to the formula.

And don't lie to yourself about cutting out this normal expenditure and that one, in order to stretch the 2½ times into fitting. This kind of shenanigan fools nobody but you.

No sales representative of a RELIABLE REALTOR will try to con you into getting involved in a house that is too much for you, so probably the safest way to start on your house hunting expedition is to seek out the services of a reliable REALTOR, such as ourselves.

School Budget To Be Presented Here Friday

Extent Of Boost Still Uncertain

Allegany County's public school budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 is just about complete and Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster hopes to present the budget to the Board of County Commissioners at its meeting Friday morning.

The County Board of Education met with Mr. Webster in executive session yesterday afternoon to thrash out final details on the budget. Traditionally, Mr. Webster refrains from discussing the details of the school budget until it is presented to the county commissioners.

During the current fiscal year, the county commissioners are providing $2,369,048 for the operation of county schools. That is slightly more than 50 per cent of the county's overall budget of $4,663,835.33 approved by the county commissioners last April 3.

Will Seek More

It appears certain that the school budget will request more funds from the county.

That trend first became apparent on January 22 when representatives of the Allegany County Teachers Association met with the county commissioners at the Court House to request a $700 a year across-the-board pay raise for all the county's 680 teachers plus some fringe benefits. The teachers asked the county to provide funds for hospital and medical insurance for them at a cost of about nine cents per hour.

Hospital and medical insurance are now paid for by the teachers themselves. The teachers do benefit from the state pension plan and obtain sick leave benefits.

The present salary schedule for teachers starts at $4,300 for teachers with a bachelor's degree and reaches a maximum for those with bachelor's degrees of $6,400 in the 12th year.

Teacher Proposal

As proposed by the teachers, the scale would begin at $5,000 and reach $7,100 in the 12th year. That would have added about $500,000 to the school budget.

At the Board of Education meeting on February 13 a compromise salary schedule was approved for recommendation to the county commissioners. That would raise the starting salary for first-year teachers with bachelor's degrees to $4,800, a $500 jump, and would reach $7,000, some $600 above the present maximum, in the 15th year of experience.

One of the uncertainties about the budget for the coming year is the matter of the county's assessable basis. Traditionally, county commissioners have been reluctant to levy on the entire available assessable basis. That assures a comfortable "cushion" for the county in the balance from the previous levy. Last April, for instance, that unexpended balance was estimated at $846,855.93.

The county's assessable basis has increased appreciably since last April although the figure is not now available. It is expected to surge above $190,000,000.

14 Dwelling Permits Issued In County

Although weather was not conducive to construction, some 14 building permits for new dwellings in the unincorporated areas of Allegany County were issued during the first three weeks of February by C. Lee Renaud, county planning director.

These 14 new houses will be built in three election districts of the county. Seven are scheduled for construction in Election District 7 in the Cresaptown-Rawlings area, six in Bel Air. Six others will be built in Election District 29, LaVale, five of them in the Sunset View development. The other new dwelling authorized will be built in Election District 31, McCoole.

Total estimated cost of the 14 new dwellings is $167,500. A garage and workshop and a garage also were approved in the first three weeks of February.

Lester R. McGill obtained building permits for construction of three dwellings in Bel Air. The other three in Bel Air will be built by the Weldon Land Company. Robert E. Yonker was issued the permit for the District 7 dwelling on Cresap Drive in Cresaptown.

Clyde J. Marsh of Westernport acquired building permits for construction of three of the Sunset View dwellings. Other Sunset View dwelling permits were issued to William K. Schatherly and Thomas W. Golightly. George W. Reissig obtained the other District 29 permit for a dwelling at the corner of Third Street and Ren Roy Drive.

SEN. E. L. MECHEM

New Mexico Senator Will Speak Here

Lincoln Day Dinner Scheduled Friday

Sen. Edwin Leard Mechem, of New Mexico, will be the guest speaker at the Lincoln Day dinner Friday evening at St. Luke's Lutheran Church on Frederick Street.

Rep. William E. Miller, of New York, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was scheduled to be the principal speaker, but he was forced to cancel the engagement because his daughter will undergo an operation Friday in New York.

J. Wallace Close, chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee, which is sponsoring the annual event, said he was notified yesterday by Sen. J. Glenn Beall that Sen. Mechem would attend the dinner instead of Rep. Miller.

The annual Republican dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Sen. Mechem was appointed to the U. S. Senate last December to complete the term of the late Dennis Chavez, a Democrat, who died last fall. Sen. Mechem will serve the remaining two years of the late Sen. Chavez's term, which began in 1958.

Sen. Mechem is the first Republican to represent New Mexico in the Senate since 1935, and the only Republican to serve as governor in that state since 1930. At the time of his appointment to the Senate, Sen. Mechem had only 32 days remaining in his fourth term as governor.

A native of New Mexico, Sen. Mechem is a graduate of New Mexico A. and M. College and received his LL. B. degree from the University of Arkansas in 1939.

He served as a land surveyor for the U. S. Reclamation Service from 1932 to 1935 and was an agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Texas, Arkansas and California from 1942 to 1945. He entered private law practice in New Mexico following his resignation from the FBI and was elected to his first term as governor of New Mexico in 1951.

L. Fred Dean, ticket chairman, said there are still tickets available and persons interested may contact Republican headquarters, Baltimore and North Liberty Street, or by calling the headquarters, PA 4-7817.

Mr. Dean said tickets also may be obtained from him in Frostburg or any member of the Republican State Central Committee.

Negotiators Agree On Pact For ABL Plant

Negotiations for Local 261, Chemical Workers Union, and the Hercules Power Company, last night reached an agreement on a new contract for Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

The agreement, subject to action of the Local 261, membership, was reached between 8 and 9 p. m. during a joint meeting at the plant.

No details were available, and they are not expected to be announced until after membership action.

The contract was due to expire at midnight yesterday.

Commissioners Invited To Convention Here

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners received an invitation yesterday to attend the state convention of the Improved Order of Red Men and Degree of Pocahontas to be held April 25, 26 and 27 at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Earl William Conn, 215 Walnut Street, Westernport, especially invited the commissioners to a memorial ceremony at 11 a. m. April 26. He wants the county commissioners to extend a welcome to the convention delegates.

The county commissioners also received notification from Martin Cuff, owner of the premises used by Magistrate Thomas G. Barton on Warrior Drive, Cresaptown, that the rent for the office will be increased from $25 to $30 a month effective April 1.

John C. Miller, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen D. Miller, 940 Gay Street, is undergoing nine weeks of basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Classification Plan Will Be Reviewed Here

Public Safety Unit May Be Studied

A review of this city's job classification and pay plan will be made by Milton B. Millon, director of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service of the University of Maryland.

Mr. Millon, who helped set up the plan in 1960, agreed last night to make a study of the entire system to see if changes have arisen since the plan was adopted.

He agreed to "take another look at the plan" at a meeting last night in City Hall as he met with Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder, Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill, City Solicitor Hugh McMullen and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

During the discussion, city officials pointed out a number of classification problems which have arisen.

Mr. Millon also agreed to forward to the city available information on a Public Safety department, formed by a merger of the Police and Fire departments.

The proposal has been brought up a number of times by city officials here, but has never reached the discussion stage.

Another problem discussed at the session was how changing situations can be met without upsetting the classification and pay plan.

Mr. Millon said, one possible way to recognize outstanding service, is by a meritorious service award, which could be made for outstanding and continued achievement to those who have performed outstanding work for the city.

Details of this proposal will also be forwarded to city officials.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A legislative subcommittee agreed tenuously Tuesday to recommend annual compulsory inspection of all Maryland motor vehicles in private garages.

The questionable 4-3 vote thus brings the drawn out debate over auto inspection back to the starting line. Maryland had inspection in private garages up to about 25 years ago and let it drop without bothering to repeal the law.

Another study commission last year rejected the private system in favor of state buildings, operation and equipment. There was a backing off of this approach shortly after the high cost was emphasized.

A welter of other ideas promptly showed up and the subcommittee of delegates and senators was named to offer the legislature one method.

Indecision marked deliberations of the subcommittee, too.

Finally, it started to go down the line of various proposals in order to reach a decision one way or the other—some kind of inspection or none.

The split was right down the middle between house and senate when it came to private garages doing the safety checking. Four delegates voted in favor and three senators against.

The subcommittee is going to have to step on the gas to draft the type of private garage inspection bill it wants and have hopes of it passing. There is only slightly more than three weeks remaining in the session.

At the outset, Sen. Harry Hughes, D-Caroline, the subcommittee chairman, said he felt neither state nor private garage inspection of all vehicles would be acceptable to a majority in the legislature.

Dels. Roy N. Staten, D-Balto County, and James C. Latham, D-Talbot, argued that rigid enforcement with stiff penalties could make operation of a private garage system satisfactory.

One of the criticisms of the old Maryland system was that garage owners sold inspection stickers without testing the car. The fine for conviction of such fraudulent practice was only $100.

Staten and Latham are considering fines in the neighborhood of $1,000 and suspension as an inspection station. Motorists who obtain stickers without actual inspection also would be subject to penalty.

The State Police would instruct the garage mechanics in inspection methods and prescribe the equipment necessary.

Service Set Friday For Flood Victim

Services for seven-year-old David Mullenax, of RFD 1, Terra Alta, W. Va., who was drowned yesterday morning in a stream near his home, will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. at the Fike-Watson Funeral Home in Terra Alta.

Rev. Donald D. Matthews will officiate and burial will be in Terra Alta Cemetery.

The youngster, who was a son of Ray and Vonda (Garrett) Mullenax, apparently was washed off a small foot bridge while he was on his way to Terra Alta School where he was in the first grade.

Preston County Deputy Sheriff I. Lloyd Wright said the young boy was washed downstream almost a mile, where his body was recovered about an hour later.

It was reported that one end of the small bridge had collapsed during the night because of the high water. Authorities said the boy had helped one of his sisters across the bridge and was going back across the bridge to return home for dry clothes when he apparently slipped or was swept into the water.

Also surviving besides his parents are five sisters and three brothers, Mary, Dorothy, Betty, Carolyn, Catherine, Steve, Kenneth and Michael Mullenax, all at home.

Trials Are Set For Four Men Friday Morning

Criminal informations were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court against four defendants who are scheduled for trial at 10 a.m. Friday before Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey.

Two forgery charges were placed against Earl Erwin Boettcher Jr., 32, of 1305 Enfield Avenue, Richmond, Va. He was accused in the criminal informations of forging checks for $260 and $114.30 last Thursday at the Liberty Trust Company and its LaVale branch.

Deputy State's Attorney Donald W. Mason will handle the prosecution of this case and John M. Robb has been court-appointed to defend the Virginian.

Three teen-agers are listed in another criminal information which charges them with larceny of a 1954 model automobile on February 28, 1962, from McFarland Motors, operated by Walter K. McFarland on Green Street in Frostburg.

Investigating officers have a statement from Riggleman that he stole the car which he said broke down after he got it into Somerset County. The motor of the stolen car later was placed in Riggleman's 1956 automobile and the stolen vehicle was burned.

State's Attorney James S. Getty will prosecute this case. Miller Bowen will represent Riggleman. Ronald C. Brubaker was court-appointed to represent the Baughman boys.

Eastbound B&O Trains Affected By Derailment

The derailment of a B & O passenger train near Chillicothe, Ohio, yesterday crippled eastbound passenger service in the Queen City.

The Associated Press said the railroad said it had a report that the embankment on which the track was laid collapsed during the heavy rain.

Officials here said they had no estimate on the trains coming from St. Louis would begin arriving here.

Westbound trains from Washington were arriving here on schedule, and trains were moving normally east and west on the Pittsburgh Division.

There was no report of an immediate effect here of trouble between Rowlesburg and Morgantown, where tracks were closed because of rock and mud slides.

Will Attend Hospital Fund Victory Dinner

The Rev. Seth C. Morrow, senior minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Lansing, Mich., will share the spotlight with the Most Rev. Fulton J. The Lansing pastor served as minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Washington Street, from 1950 to 1953. During his pastorate, the local church grew in membership, the sanctuary was redecorated and a new educational building was erected.

Always active in community affairs, Rev. Mr. Morrow served on the board of the Salvation Army during an expansion program, was president of the Cumberland Ministerial Association, and was a member of the Rotary Club.

Rev. Mr. Morrow left Cumberland to become minister of First Presbyterian Church of Orange, N. J. His ministry began in the First Presbyterian Church of Gettysburg, Pa.

U. Md. Branch Plan Given Strong Support

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Representatives of government and industry from Western Maryland and the Eastern Shore gave enthusiastic support Tuesday to a bill which would establish University of Maryland branches in their areas.

About a half dozen persons from Cambridge and some 15 from the Hagerstown area testified before the House Education Committee.

The measure, sponsored by Del. R. Samuel Dillon Jr., D-Washington, the committee chairman, also calls for a branch in the Baltimore metropolitan area.

Supporters from the Baltimore region appeared before the Senate Finance Committee last week, when bills to establish metropolitan and eastern shore branches were approved. It is possible they may be considered by the Senate Wednesday.

Dillon expressed hope Senate action on the matter would be crystalized by the time his committee meets again on Thursday.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, said enrollment at the College Park campus would reach a physical and academic saturation point of 25,000 by 1967 or 1968. The current enrollment tops 16,000.

About 5,000 of the total, he said, are residents of Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Howard and Harford counties.

Elkins said a metropolitan branch, the No. 1 expansion priority, has been under consideration for 10 years.

David Pretshuk, director of quality control at Fairchild-Stratos Corporation in Hagerstown, said a university branch was essential for community growth and needed both to attract industries and employes.

His views were reiterated by other industry representatives. W. Thackara Brown, assistant director of the Washington County Economic Development Commission, contended a Western Maryland branch could serve a wider area if it were located in Washington County.

It is generally conceded that a Western Maryland branch would be located in either Washington or Frederick County and an Eastern Shore branch in either Talbot or Dorchester County.

No one spoke in opposition to the bill.

River Crests After Passing Flood Stage

Heavy Rains, Snow Overtax Streams

The river at Wiley Ford crested some time between 3:20 p. m., when the gage read 17.73 feet, and 7 p. m., when the waters dropped about five inches to 17.35 feet.

Seventeen feet is considered flood state — the point where water begins to overflow the banks and onto low-lying ground in the area.

Crews Alerted

Flood control crews were still on the alert last night, making periodic checks on river and creek gages.

The water came very near the point where flood control crews would have to start the pumps at the Ridgeley pumping station.

Water in the river yesterday was as high, city officials said, as it has been any time since the flood control project was turned over to the city for operation.

Streams rose rapidly as the heavy rains and mild temperatures helped to melt snow in the mountains.

The high waters forced schools to close yesterday in Garrett County and several families were forced to leave their homes in the Crellin area when the Little Youghiogheny River overflowed its banks.

The families were removed to safety by members of the State Police and Sheriff James Frantz of Garrett County and several of his deputies.

The Underwood section south of Oakland also was flooded and the road to Herrington Manor was closed because of the overflow from Miller Run near Swallow Falls.

Boy Is Drowned

A seven-year-old Terra Alta, W. Va., boy lost his life when he fell into a swollen stream near his home and was drowned. The boy, David Mullenax, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullenax, was on his way to school when he fell into the stream.

The North Branch of the Potomac crested a little above the flood stage yesterday morning and quite a bit of damage would have been caused had it not been for the Savage River Dam impounding the mountain runoff.

There also was some water damage reported in the Westernport and Piedmont sections from the heavy runoff from the hillsides.

In Mineral County many roads were covered with water and the road between Piedmont and Keyser was closed at one time yesterday.

All of the streams and creeks were running rampant all day yesterday, but most began to drop somewhat late last night.

Potomac Edison Reports 23 New Industries

Twenty-three new industries began operations or announced intention of locating in the Potomac Edison service area in 1962, according to the year-end report of Potomac Edison's Area Development Department.

This group, representing a wide diversity of manufactured products, ultimately will offer employment to 2,738 persons.

In addition, 24 existing industries announced or completed expansions to existing facilities totalling more than $10,000,000.

Some 32 communities in the Potomac Edison area embracing parts of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania are engaged in planning programs. This represents 12 county groups and 20 municipalities.

Tourist travel in the PE service area showed a marked increase in 1962, partly because of extensive promotion of Civil War centennial activities. Visitors showed increased attendance to parks, battlefields and caverns where figures are tabulated. The largest gain was reflected at Antietam National Battlefield, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Antietam, with attendance soaring 53 per cent.

School Budget To Be Presented Here Friday

Extent Of Boost Still Uncertain

Allegany County's public school budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 is just about complete and Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster hopes to present the budget to the Board of County Commissioners at its meeting Friday morning.

The County Board of Education met with Mr. Webster in executive session yesterday afternoon to thrash out final details on the budget. Traditionally, Mr. Webster refrains from discussing the details of the school budget until it is presented to the county commissioners.

During the current fiscal year, the county commissioners are providing $2,369,048 for the operation of county schools. That is slightly more than 50 per cent of the county's overall budget of $4,663,835.33 approved by the county commissioners last April 3.

Will Seek More

It appears certain that the school budget will request more funds from the county.

That trend first became apparent on January 22 when representatives of the Allegany County Teachers Association met with the county commissioners at the Court House to request a $700 a year across-the-board pay raise for all the county's 680 teachers plus some fringe benefits. The teachers asked the county to provide funds for hospital and medical insurance for them at a cost of about nine cents per hour.

Hospital and medical insurance are now paid for by the teachers themselves. The teachers do benefit from the state pension plan and obtain sick leave benefits.

The present salary schedule for teachers starts at $4,300 for teachers with a bachelor's degree and reaches a maximum for those with bachelor's degrees of $6,400 in the 12th year.

Teacher Proposal

As proposed by the teachers, the scale would begin at $5,000 and reach $7,100 in the 12th year. That would have added about $500,000 to the school budget.

At the Board of Education meeting on February 13 a compromise salary schedule was approved for recommendation to the county commissioners. That would raise the starting salary for first-year teachers with bachelor's degrees to $4,800, a $500 jump, and would reach $7,000, some $600 above the present maximum, in the 15th year of experience.

One of the uncertainties about the budget for the coming year is the matter of the county's assessable basis. Traditionally, county commissioners have been reluctant to levy on the entire available assessable basis. That assures a comfortable "cushion" for the county in the balance from the previous levy. Last April, for instance, that unexpended balance was estimated at $846,855.93.

The county's assessable basis has increased appreciably since last April although the figure is not now available. It is expected to surge above $190,000,000.

14 Dwelling Permits Issued In County

Although weather was not conducive to construction, some 14 building permits for new dwellings in the unincorporated areas of Allegany County were issued during the first three weeks of February by C. Lee Renaud, county planning director.

These 14 new houses will be built in three election districts of the county. Seven are scheduled for construction in Election District 7 in the Cresaptown-Rawlings area, six in Bel Air. Six others will be built in Election District 29, LaVale, five of them in the Sunset View development. The other new dwelling authorized will be built in Election District 31, McCoole.

Total estimated cost of the 14 new dwellings is $167,500. A garage and workshop and a garage also were approved in the first three weeks of February.

Lester R. McGill obtained building permits for construction of three dwellings in Bel Air. The other three in Bel Air will be built by the Weldon Land Company. Robert E. Yonker was issued the permit for the District 7 dwelling on Cresap Drive in Cresaptown.

Clyde J. Marsh of Westernport acquired building permits for construction of three of the Sunset View dwellings. Other Sunset View dwelling permits were issued to William K. Schatherly and Thomas W. Golightly. George W. Reissig obtained the other District 29 permit for a dwelling at the corner of Third Street and Ren Roy Drive.

SEN. E. L. MECHEM

New Mexico Senator Will Speak Here

Lincoln Day Dinner Scheduled Friday

Sen. Edwin Leard Mechem, of New Mexico, will be the guest speaker at the Lincoln Day dinner Friday evening at St. Luke's Lutheran Church on Frederick Street.

Rep. William E. Miller, of New York, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was scheduled to be the principal speaker, but he was forced to cancel the engagement because his daughter will undergo an operation Friday in New York.

J. Wallace Close, chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee, which is sponsoring the annual event, said he was notified yesterday by Sen. J. Glenn Beall that Sen. Mechem would attend the dinner instead of Rep. Miller.

The annual Republican dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Sen. Mechem was appointed to the U. S. Senate last December to complete the term of the late Dennis Chavez, a Democrat, who died last fall. Sen. Mechem will serve the remaining two years of the late Sen. Chavez's term, which began in 1958.

Sen. Mechem is the first Republican to represent New Mexico in the Senate since 1935, and the only Republican to serve as governor in that state since 1930. At the time of his appointment to the Senate, Sen. Mechem had only 32 days remaining in his fourth term as governor.

A native of New Mexico, Sen. Mechem is a graduate of New Mexico A. and M. College and received his LL. B. degree from the University of Arkansas in 1939.

He served as a land surveyor for the U. S. Reclamation Service from 1932 to 1935 and was an agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Texas, Arkansas and California from 1942 to 1945. He entered private law practice in New Mexico following his resignation from the FBI and was elected to his first term as governor of New Mexico in 1951.

L. Fred Dean, ticket chairman, said there are still tickets available and persons interested may contact Republican headquarters, Baltimore and North Liberty Street, or by calling the headquarters, PA 4-7817.

Mr. Dean said tickets also may be obtained from him in Frostburg or any member of the Republican State Central Committee.

Negotiators Agree On Pact For ABL Plant

Negotiations for Local 261, Chemical Workers Union, and the Hercules Power Company, last night reached an agreement on a new contract for Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

The agreement, subject to action of the Local 261, membership, was reached between 8 and 9 p. m. during a joint meeting at the plant.

No details were available, and they are not expected to be announced until after membership action.

The contract was due to expire at midnight yesterday.

Commissioners Invited To Convention Here

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners received an invitation yesterday to attend the state convention of the Improved Order of Red Men and Degree of Pocahontas to be held April 25, 26 and 27 at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Earl William Conn, 215 Walnut Street, Westernport, especially invited the commissioners to a memorial ceremony at 11 a. m. April 26. He wants the county commissioners to extend a welcome to the convention delegates.

The county commissioners also received notification from Martin Cuff, owner of the premises used by Magistrate Thomas G. Barton on Warrior Drive, Cresaptown, that the rent for the office will be increased from $25 to $30 a month effective April 1.

Classification Plan Will Be Reviewed Here

Public Safety Unit May Be Studied

A review of this city's job classification and pay plan will be made by Milton B. Millon, director of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service of the University of Maryland.

Mr. Millon, who helped set up the plan in 1960, agreed last night to make a study of the entire system to see if changes have arisen since the plan was adopted.

He agreed to "take another look at the plan" at a meeting last night in City Hall as he met with Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder, Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill, City Solicitor Hugh McMullen and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

During the discussion, city officials pointed out a number of classification problems which have arisen.

Mr. Millon also agreed to forward to the city available information on a Public Safety department, formed by a merger of the Police and Fire departments.

The proposal has been brought up a number of times by city officials here, but has never reached the discussion stage.

Another problem discussed at the session was how changing situations can be met without upsetting the classification and pay plan.

Mr. Millon said, one possible way to recognize outstanding service, is by a meritorious service award, which could be made for outstanding and continued achievement to those who have performed outstanding work for the city.

The award could consist of an increase in the wage scale or by a percentage wage boost.

Details of this proposal will also be forwarded to city officials.

The measure, sponsored by Del. R. Samuel Dillon Jr., D-Washington, the committee chairman, also calls for a branch in the Baltimore metropolitan area.

Supporters from the Baltimore region appeared before the Senate Finance Committee last week, when bills to establish metropolitan and eastern shore branches were approved. It is possible they may be considered by the Senate Wednesday.

Dillon expressed hope Senate action on the matter would be crystalized by the time his committee meets again on Thursday.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, said enrollment at the College Park campus would reach a physical and academic saturation point of 25,000 by 1967 or 1968. The current enrollment tops 16,000.

About 5,000 of the total, he said, are residents of Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Howard and Harford counties.

Elkins said a metropolitan branch, the No. 1 expansion priority, has been under consideration for 10 years.

David Pretshuk, director of quality control at Fairchild-Stratos Corporation in Hagerstown, said a university branch was essential for community growth and needed both to attract industries and employes.

His views were reiterated by other industry representatives. W. Thackara Brown, assistant director of the Washington County Economic Development Commission, contended a Western Maryland branch could serve a wider area if it were located in Washington County.

It is generally conceded that a Western Maryland branch would be located in either Washington or Frederick County and an Eastern Shore branch in either Talbot or Dorchester County.

No one spoke in opposition to the bill.

Heavy Rains, Snow Overtax Streams

The Potomac River crested here late yesterday afternoon slightly above flood stage but comfortably within the limits of the flood protection structures. But the angry waters which sped safely by the city caused many streams to overflow their banks.

The river at Wiley Ford crested some time between 3:20 p. m., when the gage read 17.73 feet, and 7 p. m., when the waters dropped about five inches to 17.35 feet.

Seventeen feet is considered flood state — the point where water begins to overflow the banks and onto low-lying ground in the area.

Crews Alerted

Flood control crews were still on the alert last night, making periodic checks on river and creek gages.

The water came very near the point where flood control crews would have to start the pumps at the Ridgeley pumping station.

Water in the river yesterday was as high, city officials said, as it has been any time since the flood control project was turned over to the city for operation.

Streams rose rapidly as the heavy rains and mild temperatures helped to melt snow in the mountains.

The high waters forced schools to close yesterday in Garrett County and several families were forced to leave their homes in the Crellin area when the Little Youghiogheny River overflowed its banks.

The families were removed to safety by members of the State Police and Sheriff James Frantz of Garrett County and several of his deputies.

The Underwood section south of Oakland also was flooded and the road to Herrington Manor was closed because of the overflow from Miller Run near Swallow Falls.

Boy Is Drowned

A seven-year-old Terra Alta, W. Va., boy lost his life when he fell into a swollen stream near his home and was drowned. The boy, David Mullenax, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullenax, was on his way to school when he fell into the stream.

The North Branch of the Potomac crested a little above the flood stage yesterday morning and quite a bit of damage would have been caused had it not been for the Savage River Dam impounding the mountain runoff.

Patterson Creek was out of its banks and six inches of water covered Route 28 near Fort Ashby at one time yesterday.

There also was some water damage reported in the Westernport and Piedmont sections from the heavy runoff from the hillsides.

In Mineral County many roads were covered with water and the road between Piedmont and Keyser was closed at one time yesterday.

All of the streams and creeks were running rampant all day yesterday, but most began to drop somewhat late last night.

Potomac Edison Reports 23 New Industries

Twenty-three new industries began operations or announced intention of locating in the Potomac Edison service area in 1962, according to the year-end report of Potomac Edison's Area Development Department.

This group, representing a wide diversity of manufactured products, ultimately will offer employment to 2,738 persons.

In addition, 24 existing industries announced or completed expansions to existing facilities totalling more than $10,000,000.

Some 32 communities in the Potomac Edison area embracing parts of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania are engaged in planning programs. This represents 12 county groups and 20 municipalities.

Tourist travel in the PE service area showed a marked increase in 1962, primarily because of extensive promotion of Civil War centennial activities. Visitors showed a substantial increase to parks, battlefields and caverns where figures are tabulated. The largest gain was reflected at Antietam National Battlefield, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Antietam, with attendance soaring 53 per cent.
